Senate Probe—'Lobby' Fund Denied

$1,753,513 Spent To Tell Public Of Gas Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The head of an oil and gas industry committee which favored the now-vetoed natural gas bill testified Thursday that it spent $1,753,513 on a public education and information campaign.

It was not lobbying, Leonard F. McCollum of Houston, Tex., told the special Senate Lobby Investigation Committee. He said none of the money was given to lawmakers in the form of campaign contributions or otherwise, and most of it went for advertisements and printing.

McCollum said that one hoped-for result of the program was legislation freeing natural gas producers of federal controls, but its purpose was "far broader than this one piece of legislation."

He explained the basic objective was to acquaint the public with problems of the oil and gas industry.

Business Expense

McCollum is also president of the Continental Oil Co. He testified his firm contributed $57,000 to the committee, called the Natural Gas and Oil Resources Committee, and charged it off as general business expense.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM) commented, with reference to the federal tax of 52 per cent on corporation income, this meant in effect that the U.S. Treasury "paid 52 per cent of the cost of this campaign."

Anderson said the Internal Revenue Code says a company, in figuring its income tax, may not deduct from gross income any amounts spent on such activities as lobbying on legislation or "exploitation of propaganda" in other than trade advertising of its products.

McCollum said tax lawyers had advised that contributions to the industry committee could be charged to business expense.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) said after the hearing recessed until Friday that there was a question whether the contributions "would be a legal business expense."

26 Contributed

In all, the oil-gas committee raised $1,972,545 and testimony brought out that 26 companies contributed more than 80 per cent of the total. The largest single contribution listed was $175,000 from the Humble Oil & Refining Co. and the second largest was $153,000 from the Texas Co.

While McCollum was on the stand, McClellan asked if "educational programs" designed to sway public sentiment on legislation couldn't properly be regarded as "one form of lobbying, in the broadest sense."

Aid Bill Boost Voted In Senate

Committeemen Restore Over Half Of $1 Billion Cut In Ike Request

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee buoyed administration hopes for additional foreign aid money Thursday. It voted to put back more than half the $1,100,000,000 slashed by the House from President Eisenhower's request.

Republicans carried key 9-5 vote for the administration, six of the seven GOP members on the committee approving the restoration of $600,000,000 for military aid. There was no head count on a later decision to add 15 millions to European "defense support" funds.

The committee thus recommended a total of 615 millions more than the $3,800,000,000 authorized by the House.

Its action strengthened Eisenhower's position for the floor fight certain to flare when the aid bill reaches the full Senate, probably next week.

Democratic leader Johnson of Texas, not a member of the committee, had said earlier the President was "in deep trouble" in his plea for additional aid money. Johnson said most Democrats with whom he talked felt the administration has failed to make a case for any increase in the House figure.

Appealed

Eisenhower originally sought authority to spend $4,900,000,000 in the year starting July 1 for military and economic assistance to friendly nations. He appealed to the Senate this week to give back a large amount of the House cut. Administration leaders said they needed at least 600 million of it.

Sen. Green (D-R-I) proposed Thursday that the committee reinstate a full billion dollars. He lost, 8-4, getting support from only chairman George (D-GA), Sens. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) and Capehart (R-Ind.).

Republican leader Knowland of California then moved to restore 600 millions for military help abroad.

With Knowland

Voting with Knowland were George Green, Smith, Capehart, Sparkman (D-Ala.), Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), Aiken (R-Vt.) and Wiley (R-Wis.).

Against the increase were Sens. Langer (R-ND), Fulbright (D-Ark.), Mansfield (D-Mont.), Morse (D-Ore.) and Long (D-La.).

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) was the only committee member absent. His office said the senator had to fly to Minnesota before the vote was taken by indicated in advance he favored the increase.

The 15 millions voted for defense support activity represented the amount the House chopped from economic aid to Yugoslavia. In the committee version, however, it was not earmarked for any particular European country but supplemented 63 millions allowed by the House for that area.

Green said dozens of amendments are pending and the committee may not finish with the bill before Saturday.

Bottom Drops From Pool Hall Age Decrease: It's Against State Law

By BILL DOBLER, Star Staff Writer

The current controversy among groups and officials in Lincoln over the minimum age of pool hall patrons may dwindle into oblivion limit standing.

The reason for this is a state law which prohibits any younger than 18 from pool halls. The law states that anyone encouraging youths under 18 to enter pool halls will be guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The law was unearched by Attorney Miles Johnston who used the current subject of pool hall age limits in an address before the Girls' State session Thursday night. His topic was "A Look at Nebraska's Juvenile Courts."

Johnston said the Lincoln issue is an example of how enthusiasm can be worked up for reforms or changes without a thorough knowledge of all the law on the subject.

At the request of pool hall operators, the Lincoln City Council is considering lowering the age limit on pool hall patronage from 18 to 16 years.

The lower limit was approved by the city's Juvenile Crime Prevention Committee but opposed by the PTZ and members of the Police Department juvenile division.

After a study of state law, City Attorney Jack Pace agreed that the state statutes prohibit children under 18 from entering pool halls.

While this would not prohibit the Council from passing an ordinance lowering the age limit to 16, Pace said, it would not seem to be a good policy to do so. With such a lower limit, he said operators of pool halls could permit children under 18 to enter their places of business.

By so doing, he said, they would not violate city law but would be violating state law.

"If that is the state law," commented Mayor Clark Jeary, "I would think the City Council would be against taking any action in the matter at this time. The subject could be discussed after the state Legislature has had an opportunity to express itself in the matter."

In opposing the lower age limit, the PTZ listed a number of objections. The PTA letter to the City Council cited "undesirable" association in pool halls, encouragement to younger boys being on the streets downtown and other more desirable places for the children to spend their money than on pool.

Man Tells Of Slaying 2 Women

LOS ANGELES (INS)—A young ex-convict who according to police killed two Los Angeles women wept an admission Thursday that he bludgeoned them fatally because he feared their cries would cause his arrest and return to prison.

Police said the suspect, Donald T. Bashor, 27, told them in tears: "I killed them—I don't know why, except I was afraid I'd get caught when they screamed and I'd go back to the big house."

Detectives reported that Bashor confessed fully to murdering Mrs. Laura Lindsey, 62, a wealthy legal secretary, and Mrs. Karl Graham, 39, a beautiful blond divorcee, and to committing a rape and dozens of burglaries.

Chief of detectives Thad Brown said Bashor gave the reason for his one-man crime wave as his needs for funds to finance his education as a psychology student at the University of Southern California. He said he was enrolled to begin classes in the fall semester.

However, university officials said he had never even applied for admission.

Brown said Bashor was a "Jekyll and Hyde" character who was known to his friends as a gentle and industrious man.

But the battered bodies of the two women, slain in their bedrooms in the swanky Wilshire district of Los Angeles, gave evidence that the killer wielded his bludgeon with savage fury.

Detectives Tom Donovan and Jack McCradie said Bashor, who was wounded and captured last Saturday as he prowled barefoot around an apartment house, gave detailed descriptions of the fatal beatings.

N.Y.'s Record Heat Adds To Discomfort

780,000 Stranded

NEW YORK (AP)—The first all-out subway strike in New York's history hit the nation's biggest transit system Thursday with stunning suddenness. It ended after all three lines were crippled for more than nine hours.

Subway officials estimated 780,000 persons were stranded in the strike.

A vast, perilous crush of humanity built up underground during the evening rush hour. But it finally was dispersed without death, injury or panic.

Steaming-Hot Day

On a steaming day of $61-degree record heat, eight million New Yorkers were confronted with a transportation system that was badly fouled from Coney Island to the Bronx, from Times Square to the distant sections of Queens.

With the subway crippled, hundreds of thousands of stranded riders besieged bus lines, taxis and trains. Gigantic traffic tie-ups occurred as private cars were pressed into service to get people about the city.

But the real drama of the historic strike was unfolded in dimly lit subway platforms deep beneath New York's skyscrapers.

There hundreds of thousands of men, women and children—near prostration from the stifling heat—milled around in spectacular confusion, seeking trains that never came.

Provisions Waived

The Transit Authority, which operates the subway lines under state mandate, finally waived the punitive provisions of a state anti-strike law to get the motormen back to work.

The law calls for the dismissal of subway strikers. The Transit Authority, however, agreed to take back any motormen wanting to work—including more than 100 suspended during a hectic day of vast confusion.

However, at the end of an emergency meeting at City Hall, Mayor Robert F. Wagner interpreted the amnesty to mean that some punishment less than dismissal still might be meted out to the strikers.

Wagner said he understood the Transit Authority would discipline the actual strikers but not motormen who were prevented from working through no fault of their own.

The subway system carries 4½ million passengers a day. The Transit Authority estimated 500,000 BMT riders were stranded, 250,000 on the IND and 30,000 on the IRT.

Walk Across Bridges

Long lines of people plodded across Brooklyn Bridge and the Queensboro Bridge, going home afoot from sun blistered Manhattan.

Others hitchhiked home. Pretty girls in light summer frocks were not above sharing cabs with truck drivers to get home. Car pools formed. Taxis were at a premium.

Sightseeing buses were converted into transit units. All available buses were thrown into service on city lines. The Long Island Rail Road was so swamped with stranded subway riders that its trains were running 20 minutes behind schedule.

Big, teeming residential areas of the city were isolated or partly cut off from subway service—Astoria, Flushing, Canarsie, Coney Island, Forest Hills, Jamaica.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., (INS)—Gov. William G. Stratton announced the appointment of Clyde C. Walton, Jr., 31, of Iowa City, Ia., as Illinois state historian to succeed Dr. Harry E. Pratt, Lincoln authority and historian who died of a heart attack Feb. 12.

The appointment was made by the board of trustees of the Illinois State Historical Library.

Walton will assume his duties on Sept. 1.

Ike Voices Plea For Germans

Hagerty Refuses To Answer Fleeson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three medical bulletins Thursday reported President Eisenhower coming along well, and getting to drink some tea, warm water and beef broth in small amounts.

A highlight of the day was a visit from Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, to whom the President voiced hope for the "liberation" of 7 million Germans from "Soviet Communist rule."

There was also a continued refusal by press secretary James C. Hagerty to discuss any questions about a second term, so long as the President remains in Walter Reed Army Hospital.

Hagerty refused to relay to Eisenhower a question as to whether his new illness may lead the President to reconsider his Feb. 29 decision to run for reelection.

'Rekurs'

Hagerty also refused to discuss in detail a newspaper columnist's report that some medical authorities say Iteitis often recurs. Iteitis is the intestinal ailment for which Eisenhower was operated on Saturday.

Hagerty wouldn't comment on quotations from a medical journal.

Disputed Column

Doris Fleeson's column, about Miss Fleenon's surgery, which was asked for comment, appears on Page 4 of The Star this morning.

and an insurance manual saying that ileitis frequently recurs even surgery.

The quotations were carried in a syndicated column by Doris Fleeson. The writer suggested these views should be weighed along with statements made by Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, who performed the surgery, that a recurrence is unlikely in the President's case.

"Do I have any comment? No," Hagerty told reporters.

When a reporter suggested that the citations "raised some questions" which should be answered by the President's physicians, Hagerty retorted:

"It doesn't raise any questions. Miss Fleenon is not a doctor."

"We have tried to be of our ability to give you the opinion of the doctors who are on the case."

When reporters noted that Miss Fleeson was quoting from medical documents, Hagerty replied: "I can quote other doctors back."

He suggested that the correspondents "take a look at Dr. Crohn's statements that were published in the papers."

Medical

Dr. Burill Crohn of New Milford, Conn., was the discoverer of ileitis, which sometimes is called Crohn's disease.

Dr. Crohn said last Saturday after hearing about the President's operation that "the outlook is very good . . . the President should be restored to full health with no diminution of his working efficiency."

As for the possibilities of recurrence, Dr. Crohn said this happens to about 30 to 35 per cent of those stricken, at irregular intervals.

But in Eisenhower's case, he said, "even if there should be recurrences, they are rather mild."

Predicted Storm Activity Starts In Western Nebraska

Showers and thunderstorms forecast for western and northern Nebraska for Friday began to develop late Thursday.

A thunderstorm striking in the Alliance area brought rain and hail down in proportions that caused some crop damage, although the exact amount wasn't immediately determined.

State Highway 19, running between Alliance and Scottsbluff, was blocked with high water near Angola Thursday night and early Friday.

Storm activity also was reported at Scottsbluff, Valentine, Sidney and Chadron.

Precipitation amounted to .21 of an inch at Scottsbluff and .11 at Chadron.

Partly cloudy skies and temperatures in the 90s were predicted for the beginning of the state's weekend. Scattered showers and thunderstorms were expected Friday in the Panhandle and northern portions of the state.

Imperial's 99 topped the state Thursday and Sidney had the low of 58. Lincoln's high was 89 and the Air Base reported 90. Both stations reported lows of 70.

OMAHA (AP)—James J. Sydow, 15, Omaha drowned in a slough about a mile south of the South Omaha bridge on the Iowa side of the Missouri river Thursday afternoon.

The slough is on the land of farmer Ira Thacker and young Sydow had gone there with a party of friends. The group went out to a raft, leaving Sydow on one end while the others went to the other where there was a diving board.

Soon one of the group noticed Sydow was missing and some of the boys tried diving deep in the slough seeking a body. Another ran to the Thacker home and Thacker called officers who recovered the body with grappling hooks.

Boy Falls In Tar, Comes Out Minus His Shoes, Shorts

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A 12-year-old boy really put his foot in it. It took police almost an hour to extract Ronald Blair from a 55-gallon drum of tar, minus his shorts and shoes.

The youngster said he was dashing over the tops of several tar-filled drums at a building project when one of his feet sank in the mixture.

Ronald kicked with his other foot to get free. It, too, stuck in the goo. When rescuers arrived, he was almost up to his hips in tar.

Two patrolmen tried to pull him out unsuccessfully. Finally, they had to chop open the drum and pry the tar away. Out came Ronald, unhurt.

A vast, perilous crush of humanity built up underground during the evening rush hour. But it finally was dispersed without death, injury or panic.

Steaming-Hot Day

On a steaming day of 96.1-degree record heat, eight million New Yorkers were confronted with a transportation system that was badly fouled from Coney Island to the Bronx, from Times Square to the distant sections of Queens.

With the subways crippled, hundreds of thousands of stranded riders besieged bus lines, taxis and trains. Gigantic traffic-tieups occurred as private cars were pressed into service to get people about the city.

But the real drama of the historic strike was unfolded in dimly lit subway platforms deep beneath New York's skyscrapers.

There hundreds of thousands of men, women and children—near prostration from the stifling heat—milled around in spectacular confusion, seeking trains that never came.

Provisions Waived

The Transit Authority, which operates the subway lines under state mandate, finally waived the punitive provisions of a state anti-strike law to get the motormen back to work.

The law calls for the dismissal of subway strikers. The Transit Authority, however, agreed to take back any motormen wanting to work—including more than 100 suspended during a hectic day of vast confusion.

However, at the end of an emergency meeting at City Hall, Mayor Robert F. Wagner interpreted the amnesty to mean that some punishment less than dismissal still might be meted out to the strikers.

Wagner said he understood the Transit Authority would discipline the actual strikers but not motormen who were prevented from working through no fault of their own.

The subway system carries 4½ million passengers a day. The Transit Authority estimated 500,000 BMT riders were stranded, 250,000 on the IND and 30,000 on the IRT.

Walk Across Bridges

Long lines of people plodded across Brooklyn Bridge and the Queensboro Bridge, going home afoot from sun blistered Manhattan.

Others hitchhiked home. Pretty girls in light summer frocks were not above sharing cabs with truck drivers to get home. Car pools formed. Taxis were at a premium. Sightseeing buses were converted into transit units. All available buses were thrown into service on city lines. The Long Island Rail Road was so swamped with stranded subway riders that its trains were running 20 minutes behind schedule.

Big, teeming residential areas of the city were isolated or partly cut off from subway service—Astoria, Flushing, Canarsie, Coney Island, Forest Hills, Jamaica.

—Senate Probe— 'Lobby' Fund Denied $1,753,513 Spent To Tell Public Of Gas Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The head of an oil and gas industry committee which favored the now-voted natural gas bill testified Thursday that it spent $1,753,513 on a public education and information campaign.

It was not lobbying, Leonard F. McCollum of Houston, Tex., told the special Senate Lobby Investigation Committee. He said none of the money was given to lawmakers in the form of campaign contributions or otherwise, and most of it went for advertisements and printing.

McCollum said that one hoped-for result of the program was legislation freeing natural gas producers of federal controls, but its purpose was "far broader than this one piece of legislation."

He explained the basic objective was to acquaint the public with problems of the oil and gas industry.

Business Expense

McCollum is also president of the Continental Oil Co. He testified his firm contributed $57,000 to the committee, called the Natural Gas and Oil Resources Committee, and charged it off as general business expense.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM) commented, with reference to the federal tax of 52 per cent on corporation income, this meant in effect that the U.S. Treasury "paid 52 per cent of the cost of this campaign."

Anderson said the Internal Revenue Code says a company, in figuring its income tax, may not deduct from gross income any amounts spent on such activities as lobbying or propaganda "or exploitation of propaganda" in other than trade advertising of its products.

McCollum said tax lawyers had advised that contributions to the industry committee could be charged to business expense.

Chairman McClellan (D - Ark.) said after the hearing recessed until Friday that there was a question whether the contributions "would be a legal business expense."

26 Contributed

In all, the oil-gas committee raised $1,972,545 and testimony brought out that 26 companies contributed more than 80 per cent of the total. The largest single contribution listed was $175,000 from the Humble Oil & Refining Co. and the second largest was $153,000 from the Texas Co.

While McCollum was on the stand, McClellan asked if "educational programs" designed to sway public sentiment on legislation couldn't properly be regarded as "one form of lobbying, in the broadest sense."

Caudle And Connolly Convicted

Pair Guilty Of Conspiring
... To Help Tax Dodger

Connolly Caudle

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two top Truman administration officials, Matthew J. Connolly and T. Lamar Caudle, sat motionless Thursday as they heard a federal jury convict them of conspiring to help an income tax dodger.

The conviction could mean as much as five years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine for both Connolly, 48-year-old White House appointments secretary under former President Truman, and the 52-year-old Caudle, one-time Justice Department tax head.

To Ask New Trial
U.S. Dist. Judge Ruben M. Hulen set their sentencing for July 19. He said he would also hear motions that day and the defense indicated it would seek a new trial.

Connolly, neatly dressed in a gray suit, tried to avoid newsmen as he walked from the courtroom. Friendly with them throughout the trial, he appeared grim and tense. "No comment, boys," was all he would say as he hurried from the federal building.

Caudle was obviously shocked, too. At first he wouldn't talk but when he regained his composure he said:

"I know I am an innocent man, convicted for something I never did. I will face my God, my sweet children and my friends when my time comes. I have no apologies for anything I have done."

The jury of four women and eight men from rural eastern Missouri had been out less than nine hours in all.

Caudle, now a lawyer in his hometown of Wadesboro, N.C., and Connolly were convicted of conspiring to defraud the government of their official services by trying to sidetrack criminal prosecution of Irving Sachs, a St. Louis shoe manufacturer.

Eventually Sachs was indicted by a grand jury. He pleaded guilty to evading $128,721 in income taxes and was fined $40,000. He escaped a prison term on grounds of poor health.

Rescued Man Believes Two Mates Dead

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A survivor of the sunken tug Mayaguez, expressed belief Thursday that two of his three missing shipmates drowned in the storm-swept Mississippi Sound.

The Dunham, 31, of De Quincy, La., told rescuers one of the missing men "definitely drowned," and he believed another, critically injured, also had drowned, but there was a chance the third missing man was floating in a life jacket.

Stirred up by the season's first tropical disturbance, the tug went down Wednesday and seven men from a barge and the tug's eight-man crew were thrown into the water.

Another man remained aboard the quarterbarge which drifted to safety.

Eight were rescued Wednesday, and four, including Dunham, Thursday.

The tropical disturbance, which brought the Mississippi Gulf Coast its highest tides since the 1947 hurricane, dissipated itself Thursday in Arkansas after dumping as much as eight inches of rain on south Mississippi.

Jeanne Crain Is Accused Of Adultery

... Divorce Charge

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The estranged husband of beautiful, red-haired screen star Jeanne Crain accused her Thursday of committing adultery.

The charges were hurled by Paul Brinkman, 37, in his cross-complaint filed in Los Angeles against her suit for divorce.

Brinkman's allegations heaped new fuel on an already explosive legal battle in which she had charged him with threatening to kill them both and with beating her, tapping her telephone and having detectives trail her.

The husband, a former radio manufacturer, asserted that his 30-year-old wife had been intimate with a person identified only as "Romer Rhoads" on two occasions last December and possibly several previous times.

The cross-complaint, prepared by attorney Robert H. Powsner, also said Miss Crain had treated Brinkman with extreme cruelty and had inflicted grievous mental sufferings on him without cause for provocation.

Her handsome mate further contended that his wife was an unfit mother and that he should have custody of their four children—Paul Jr., 9; Michael, 7; Timothy, 5, and Jeanine, 4.

He asked the court for a division of their community property.

The bitter charges each has hurled at the other have completely shattered a 10-year-old marriage which once was regarded as a model union in the film colony.

Cause, Cure Of Warts Still Big Mystery

... Many Blame Virus

By ROBERT GOLDSTEIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Huck Finn's remedy for killing warts with a dead cat may have had merit—but the nation's top doctors still find the pesky things a big mystery.

Dr. Roy L. Kile told the annual convention of the American Medical Assn. that investigators are pretty much agreed that warts are caused by a virus.

But although the evidence is strong, he said, they haven't been able to prove that warts can be communicated from one person to another.

"Bewitched"

Dr. Kile, assistant professor of dermatology at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine, told the doctors that nearly every small community has a "character" who can "bewitch" warts. The technique of curing physical disease by suggestion, he said, is "as dramatically presented with warts as with any disease we know."

Dr. Kile, who made a study of the transmission of warts among children in an orphanage and residents of a small seminary, said he believes there are a number of strains of wart viruses, some more communicable than others. He believes simple precautions could prevent their spread.

BONN (INS) — Three Soviet citizens decided at the last moment they would rather stay in West German jails than go home to Russia.

The decision of the three overshadowed the scheduled mass repatriation of 30 Soviet nationals convicted of civil offenses and sentenced to terms in West German prisons. The 30 returnees are scheduled to be handed over to Soviet custody on Saturday.

This is the first returnee group from a total of 50 persons who succumbed to Russia's lure campaign.

Soil Bank To Be Explained At Meetings

A state-wide meeting, open to the public, for the purpose of explaining the provisions and the technicalities of the recently passed soil bank program was scheduled to begin Friday at 9 a.m. and continue through Saturday at the Lincoln Hotel.

Special participant in the two-day program will be Hubert Dyke, northwest area director of the Commodities Stabilization Service, with headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Together with men from the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, Dyke will conduct a series of discussions slated to cover the administration of the soil bank and the steps necessary for inaugurating the program at the county level.

The conference is especially geared to the ASC committees in the various counties of the state so that the county members and others officially connected with the soil bank will be able to explain to farmers how the program effects the farmer and what is necessary for participation in the soil bank.

Among those specially invited to the conference were county agents, representatives from the Federal Department of Agriculture located in the area, persons in the State Department of Agriculture, members of the various farm organizations and persons engaged in farm management and business closely related to day-to-day farming.

Early next week the same sort of gatherings will be held all over Nebraska in small groups so farmers interested may attend a spokesman for the State ASC office said.

Owen Daily, 68, Former Wrestling Champion, Dies

MINDEN, Neb. (AP) — Funeral services will be held here Friday for Owen Daily, former Kearney County sheriff and one-time world lightweight wrestling champion.

Right-To-Work Law Doomed In Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The Louisiana Senate Thursday voted final legislative passage 21-18 to a bill repealing Louisiana's right to work law.

The bill now moves to Gov. Earl K. Long's desk. The governor had promised to sign a repeal measure if it passed the Legislature.

The final vote came after two hours of orderly debate. The crowded gallery remained quiet during the debate, but when the final vote was announced applause and cheers rang out.

Louisiana is one of 18 states having right to work laws. Such statutes provide that no person shall be denied employment because of membership or nonmembership in a labor organization.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — A rooftop sentry Thursday night foiled a fifth attack on a British military command post in Metaxas Square, shooting a Cypriot as he was about to hurl a bomb.

Jet Rams Car, Garden Wall— Nobody Hurt!

THANE T. Eng. (AP) — Pilot Thomas B. Adams, 23, of Millbrook, N. Y., rammed his jet plane into an occupied automobile and knocked 50 feet out of a garden wall—but nobody was hurt.

A U.S. Air Force spokesman said the "miraculous escape" happened this way:

Too late, Adams saw a parked car directly in his path as he was taking off in his F4U fighter-bomber. In a split second he pulled back on the stick, enough to lessen the impact on the car. But the jet bounced into the wall around the garden of Lady Carson, widow of a prominent North Ireland lawyer, and came to a screeching halt 50 yards from a road full of traffic.

Brian Hollyhead, a civilian, was pulled from his crumpled car uninjured.

Lady Carson, who has refused to pay her taxes because of the noise made by the jets, grimly observed the bricks scattered over her garden and commented, "I have a thing to say, but I think my lawyer will."

Right-To-Work Law Doomed In Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The Louisiana Senate Thursday voted final legislative passage 21-18 to a bill repealing Louisiana's right to work law.

The bill now moves to Gov. Earl K. Long's desk. The governor had promised to sign a repeal measure if it passed the Legislature.

The final vote came after two hours of orderly debate. The crowded gallery remained quiet during the debate, but when the final vote was announced applause and cheers rang out.

Louisiana is one of 18 states having right to work laws. Such statutes provide that no person shall be denied employment because of membership or nonmembership in a labor organization.

Attack Foiled

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — A fifth sentry Thursday foiled a rooftop attack on a British military command post in Metaxas Square, shooting a Cypriot as he was about to hurl a bomb.

Jet Rams Car, Garden Wall— Nobody Hurt!

THANET, Eng. (AP) — Pilot Thomas B. Adams, 23, of Millbrook, N. Y., rammed his jet plane into an occupied automobile and knocked 50 feet out of a garden wall—but nobody was hurt.

A U.S. Air Force spokesman said the "miraculous escape" happened this way:

Too late, Adams saw a parked car directly in his path as he was taking off in his F84 F fighter-bomber. In a split second he pulled back on the stick, enough to lessen the impact on the car. But the jet bounced into the wall around the garden of Lady Carson, widow of a prominent North Ireland lawyer, and came to a screeching halt 50 yards from a road full of traffic.

Brian Hollyhead, a civilian, was pulled from his crumpled car uninjured.

Lady Carson, who has refused to pay her taxes because of the noise made by the jets, grimly observed the bricks scattered over her garden and commented, "I have nothing to say, but I think my lawyer should."

Third Party Move Denied

By The Associated Press
Southern Democrats divided sharply Thursday over a proposal for a second round of state Democratic conventions in Dixie to consider possible unity of action in event they disagreed with the party's presidential candidate and platform.

Sen. Wolford (D-SC) in a letter to other legislators denied that the call for Southern co-operation made by Gov. George Bell Timmerman of South Carolina, was a move toward a third party such as divided the South in 1948.

Earlier, Sen. Scott (D-NC) had denounced the proposal as "Dixiecrat sugarcoating" and said he has "no patience with anything that suggests a third party." He suggested that more constructive work can be done by working out problems within the framework of the Democratic party.

"In Recess"
Timmerman had written Scott and others asking support for a resolution approved by the South Carolina Democratic convention last March. This would have Southern State Democratic conventions "stand in recess" until after Democratic National Convention. Then they could meet again to "consider such further" action as may be necessary to maintain "unity and solidarity of purpose."

"The South Carolina convention also suggested a caucus of Southern delegates in advance of the national convocation."
At the time the South Carolina convention acted in March little support for the standby operation was found among other Southern States.

Sen. Wolford's letter Thursday said Timmerman "specifically stated that 'South Carolina delegates want to remain in the national party'." Wolford said he's in accord with that.

Necessary
But he added that Southern co-operation is necessary because "failure of Southern states to act in unity—in the past—even when they were in agreement resulted in the National Convention utterly disregarding Southern views and problems."

Senate Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas commented simply: "I hope any differences within the party can be worked out harmoniously."
Rep. Hebert (D-La.) said any feasible plan to solidify the position of the South will have his support. Rep. Colmer (D-Miss.) called on Southern states to organize and "make their voices heard in the smoke-filled rooms."

Benjamin Kemp Leaves $150,000

The estate of Benjamin N. Kemp, who died Sept. 24 at Boulder, Colo., was valued at more than $150,000 by an appraisal filed in Lancaster County Court.

The appraisal listed real properties in Lincoln and Fillmore, Saunders and Tyler Counties valued at a total of $58,850.
Personal property totaled $73,483.74, including a $21,490 checking account; $16,000 in notes, and $10,000 in investment certificates.

Jointly owned property, held with his daughter, Mildred Kemp of Lincoln, totaled $17,780, of which about $15,000 was a savings investment account.
Mr. Kemp left no will. His daughter was his sole heir.

A Timely Farewell

A dispatch from Missouri tells of the law's intervention there ending a pioneer sport, practiced by present day Missourians. It is the "coon-on-a-log" contest.

To the initiated it is a sport in which a racoon is chained to a log and placed in a pond or stream some distance from shore. Coon dogs are permitted to swim to the log and attempt to fight or maneuver the coon into the water. The contests are frequently bloody and cruel.

The attorney general of Missouri acted to end the sport under the statute against animal baiting.

There is much of pioneer life that appeals to the present day Middlewesterner, but animal baiting is an exception. Almost everyone will rejoice over the Missouri action and will hope for its spread through other states.

Coon hunting and coon trials are common in Nebraska and any sportsman who has experienced the heady excitement of a good hunt on a crisp autumn night knows there is nothing better. The coon is an artful fellow and it takes a mighty well trained pack of hounds to tree him or even to remain on his clever trail.

But by and large Nebraskans have turned it into a humane sport, frequently refusing to make the kill and seeing to it that if the coon is taken, he is taken alive and unharmed. That way the coon lives to be hunted again or to remain captive for a time to provide trails for coon dog trials. The spirit of humane conservation pervades most of Nebraskans relations with Brother Coon and for that we can all be thankful. The sport is being preserved and improved.

Nebraska Goes To Bat

State-building Nebraskans will make a firm and articulate case before a U.S. Department of Agriculture committee in an effort to get acceptance of a suitable site in Nebraska for the department's projected $18 million federal animal disease laboratory.

Whatever the outcome the state can be assured that its cause was well represented and nothing lost because of failure to speak and speak well.

Nebraska has much to recommend it for such a research center.

It is centrally located in the agricultural belt. It is a state of exceptional characteristics in terms of agricultural diversity. It has high and low altitude farming, moist and dry farming, irrigation and non-irrigation, and a climate and soil condition that makes it a producer of virtually every significant crop except rice, tobacco and cotton.

It is the home state of the nation's largest volume livestock market. It is a major producer of cattle, hogs and sheep.

It is also sincerely interested in promoting anything of constructive service to its agricultural economy and in providing the best possible environment for research efforts of service to the entire field of agriculture.

These facts are not without weight. Whether they will be sufficient to decide the question of site selections remains to be seen, but that they will be given utmost consideration is a certainty.

Our Worried Neighbors

Nebraska's neighbors, particularly South Dakota, the news dispatches said, are acquiring new wrinkles in their collective foreheads in fear that Nebraska in a spirit of greed, plus needs, will divert undue amounts of electricity developed on the upper Missouri River dams which are a part of the Pick-Sloan plan.

That is the flimsy excuse given for failure to provide funds for construction of a transmission line leading from Ft. Randall to Grand Island. It is not limited to Ft. Randall. If Nebraska's neighbors have their way about it, the bulk of the electricity produced in this flood program for the Missouri River will be held in reserve until such time as South Dakota, Wyoming, and others have need of it.

The Department of Interior at this time is What the American people are in great need of now, and in the immediate future are more facts and less partisanship. We are referring, of course, to President Eisenhower's availability for a second term. What the American people should have is information—factual, dispassionate insofar as is humanly possible shorn of all self-interest and measured only in terms of the welfare of the individual who now occupies the White House and the good of the people of the nation.

In adjoining columns on this page are two rather remarkable contributions seeking to inform the American people first about the circumstances of President Eisenhower's health and next pointing out medical conclusions arrived at when the stress and pressures of politics were absent. One is by Drew Pearson who reveals that before the President submitted to an emergency major operation, it was necessary to administer to him a vitamin K, intravenously, in order to thicken his blood in preparation for surgery. And Mr. Pearson writes at some length of administration of dicumarol at Denver, which Pearson says is considered one of the important factors in Ike's heart recovery. Even more impressive, it seems to us, in contributing to understanding of the President's health is the column by Doris Fleeceon. In careful, painstaking fashion she sets forth conclusions reached by the medical profession in connection with the ailment which led to major surgery for the President. The thoughtful man or woman knows it is no kindness to undertake to retain in public post—actually the most important, cruel and crushing office in the world—a man whose long, distinguished public career may already have subjected him to more than the normal wear and tear of the advancing years.

Taken From Reports

Rare, indeed, are those presidential years which fail to produce something by way of nonsense and silliness. Miss Fleeceon says that the medical profession outside of government is joining in the discussion of Mr. Eisenhower's availability for a second term. She reports that Dr. David Allman, a candidate for president of the American Medical Association, told Chicago reporters that "when President Eisenhower recovers, he will be in better physical condition than any of his opponents, Republican or Democrat, have been at any time in their lives." As Miss Fleeceon points out, Dr. Allman never attended any of these men. As the Milwaukee Journal observes, such silly stuff tends to degrade the medical profession.

But infinitely more reassuring is the inescapable conclusion that in all good time the American people out of their basic common sense and broad experience will recognize all of this for what it is. We doubt seriously that a coronary attack tends to improve the health of an individual. If it did, then the medical profession might have been prescribing coronaries for a great many individuals. We doubt also that a stomach ailment in the nature of ileitis or Crohn's disease, with resulting successful treatment, over the long pull tends to contribute to the individual's good health. Miss Fleeceon quotes from the insurance underwriters' bible that the disease is serious, always serious, an ailment which becomes chronic.

Whatever the facts, the public will want the facts. And most of all, a man who has served his country throughout all the years of his mature life should not unknowingly become part of a tago-war in the controversy which is inherently associated with American political life. Mr. Eisenhower knows nothing of this discussion now in progress.

Propaganda Crowds The Facts About Ike

WASHINGTON—An excess of propaganda is beginning to get in the way of the public dialogue about President Eisenhower's health. That dialogue is necessary and proper because the health of the President is an affair of state with grave consequences to the country and the world.

The psychological warfare over the President's new illness was begun by his Army doctors almost before he was out of the ether. His aids continued it while he still trailed a stomach drainage tube from his nose.

The Democrats are starting to fight back. These attempted manipulations of public opinion can be expected to continue until they cease to have a point.

Even the medical profession outside the government is joining in. Dr. David Allman, a candidate for president of the American Medical Association, for example, told reporters in Chicago that "When President Eisenhower recovers he will be in better physical condition than any of his opponents, Republican or Democrat, have been at any time in their lives."

Dr. Allman never attended any of these men. As the Milwaukee Journal points out, such silly stuff tends to degrade the medical profession.

History shows that this is the way people are. Such is the stuff of the power and advantage to be derived from the office of the presidency.

Yet, whatever is or is not true in the propaganda war, the disease which required surgery for the President is a fact for which ample literature exists. That literature is available. In at least two cases of unquestioned respectability and authority, it cuts across the optimism dispensed at Walter Reed hospital last Saturday afternoon by Major-General Leonard D. Heaton, the Army Surgeon who operated on the President.

Dr. Heaton said he thought the President's life expectancy might have been improved because he would almost certainly not again suffer from the disease. He thought there was nothing in the picture to prevent the President from running again.

'Always Serious', Says Insurance Bible

Both the insurance underwriter's bible, Risk Appraisal by Dr. Harry W. Dingman, and the current issue of the New England Journal of Medicine, May 31, 1956, suggest that Dr. Heaton drew a long bow.

The Risk Appraisal comments (page 248, 1954 edition) begin: "Ileitis, regional — Crohn's disease. Serious. Always serious." Details of the disorder follow and then this comment:

"Slowly, progressively, the ailment becomes chronic, about 10 percent resulting in obstruction of various degree. Short circuiting operations offer hope, but not much. Prognosis always dubious. "Recurrence is distressingly high, one in three within two years. In Mayo clinic, record of 42 recurrent cases, five were dead, 10 invalided, 27 arrested but one had continued diarrhea of severe nature, five had nutritional disturbances, 19 had continued diarrhea of mild degree. Fact is, recurrence must be expected within two years. (Lahey Clin. Bul. 8-149, 1953.)"

A second grim study was cited and the point then made that "bowel resection often necessary because abscess, fissure or obstruction, in which even 50 per cent may appear to be well, 50 per cent will probably have recurrence in some degree or other. Trouble is, effected persons are sub-par in general health. "Life insurance possibly acceptable on 10-year endowment plan rated for 300 per cent mortality. "Disability coverage no, positively no."

Ileitis, High Recurrence Rate

Walter Reed doctors, after extensive tests, recently certified the President as in excellent health. Their glowing diagnostic findings did not mention the President's intestinal pathology for which surgery was performed last week end.

The New England Journal of Medicine, page 1031, describes surgery as "palliative rather than curative" in a complete review of regional enteritis, which is Crohn's disease. The Review discusses all of the treatment included in the ileocolostomy. Its conclusion:

"It is this high recurrence rate even in the hands of the most enthusiastic sponsor of any one form of operation that has relegated surgery to the role of the palliative rather than curative measure. This disappointing aspect is usually found within a year of operation, at the proximal point of the new anastomosis—the 'new terminal ileum.'"

"There is a pessimism and disillusionment about the effectiveness of any regimen of providing more than palliation and control of symptoms."

"They all suffer from the disappointing sequel of recurrence and persistence of the disease."

That doctors disagree is a truism, but the foregoing accounts hardly fail to fall within its scope. (Copyright, 1956, By UF Syndicate, Inc.)

DREW PEARSON

Press Remiss In Roosevelt Illness

WASHINGTON — Most American newsmen, along with this writer, were remiss in not reporting the real health of President Roosevelt when he ran for re-election in 1944. Less than six months after that re-election he was dead.

There were some legitimate reasons why FDR's health was not reported, among them wartime censorship, the fact that we did not see him much during the war, plus a natural hesitancy to report the unpleasant possibility that a man may die in office.

But when the presidency of the United States influences, as it does, the peace and prosperity of the world, it is essential that American voters know the real facts of health, even beyond the medical bulletins, before they nominate or elect any man to the most important office in the world.

Before the President was given his emergency operation it was necessary to administer a vitamin K, intravenously, in order to thicken his blood in preparation for the surgery. This was because he has been given an anticoagulant (dicumarol) ever since his heart attack in Denver, which makes the blood so thin that if care is not taken there is a danger that it may seep through the body tissues.

If the thinning effect of the anticoagulant had not been counteracted there could have been serious, even fatal, bleeding during the operation.

Anticoagulants

The administration of dicumarol at Denver, though it can be dangerous, is considered one of the most important factors in Ike's heart recovery. Dicumarol was a first recommended by Col. Thomas Mattingly, the heart specialist of Walter Reed Hospital, who had recently been studying at the Cornell Medical school under Drs. W. T. Foley and Irving S. Wright, two of the nation's top experts on anticoagulants.

Dr. Wright, who is past president of the American Heart Association and is in charge of the vascular research section of the New York hospital-Cornell Medical Center, recently gave significant testimony regarding anticoagulants before the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee.

His testimony, though ignored by the press, throws somewhat disturbing light on President Eisenhower's health when it comes to recurrent attacks and the connection between heart and brain. Dr. Wright testified that there was a frequent relationship between a heart attack and hardening of the arteries in the brain.

At the beginning of his testimony, Dr. Wright noted that anticoagulants have been used on thousands of heart patients.

"Included in these," he observed, "is the President of the United States."

The doctor then discussed anticoagulants in detail. Here are some of the startling highlights.

Danger Of More Attacks

"Many . . . who survive the first attack have a series of thrombo-embolic complications over the succeeding years," Dr. Wright declared. "In other words, a patient will have a cerebral thrombosis or stroke; thereafter he may have a coronary thrombosis or a closure of an artery in his leg, followed by another stroke; and this may be a continuing tragic history. And this again was emphasized by the mental health group. There is a relationship, a frequent relationship between thrombosis and arteriosclerosis of the brain and the heart."

In layman's language, what Dr. Wright said was that thrombosis victims may develop hardening of the brain arteries. This diminishes the victim's mental powers.

"Although there may be an interval of a few months or a year or two between the attacks," Wright testified, "the damage is going on. And it may also occur in the arteries of the leg or elsewhere. In many patients, this is a cumulative matter and a continuing tragic history to the patient and the patient's family."

By MONA B. PARKER

A bit of unnumbered glory of the early years came back to a writer for the Alexandria Argus. He was sitting on his porch one night, and from the stretch of two blocks that separates his house and the ball park came young voices, spilling out their joyous magic to all who ever played out of doors on a summer evening. . . . "It brought back all the 'Run, Sheep, Run,' ball and just plain fun we used to have."

Mrs. Lester Eastwood has no interest whatsoever in the story of Bridey Murphy or the possibility of reincarnation that it has raised with some who listen and wonder. She is, she says in the Pawnee Republican, quite content to be herself and enjoy the only form of reliving she ever expects to find on this sphere.

Her reliving is done through the medium of her own lively youngsters, and at the moment she's going through the teens again with her two older children and "it's a lot more fun than it was the first time. It's something like watching a play you were in once upon a time long ago. . . . All the tenseness and stage fright is gone. As a part of the audience, you can relax and laugh where you didn't see anything funny when you were a member of the cast."

A grandmother living near Geneva told of a week's entertainment of the small son of one of her children, and when the vacation came to an end, there was the memory of hours of chatter and

The Western Nebraska Observer calls the fishing season the delight of husbands and the regret of wives . . . tells of one squeamish Kimball housewife much averse to the thought of holding a slippery fish and cutting off its head. "After stewing and fretting over it, she finally hit on the idea of wrapping the fish in paper and guessing where to cut to remove the head. She played it mighty cautious. Those were mighty long-necked fish."

"One torn shirt, five pair of dirty jeans, an empty cookie jar and a million footprints lost in the dust . . ."

"Rearing a family is like raising a garden. It takes a lot of hoeing before you get results. Right?"

From north of Scribner, Mrs. LeRoy Ahndt looked down at the callouses on her hands, result of long hours in the garden, hoe in hand . . . smiled across the table at her equally hard-working spouse . . . and reminded Rustler readers to remember Father's Day and the important man of the year, that day and every day. With paternal character reflecting itself on youngsters, the big need is patience, she believes, although sometimes when watching the small fry, one wonders . . .

One Ravensden father, however, dabbling in garden affairs with an eye and a trigger finger to being helpful, was no prime example either to his children or his wife. To begin with, there was a plant-chewing gopher . . .

"So when Pop had a little idle time one day, he got his gun and took a shot at the gopher and killed it. Mom was quite happy to hear about it — until she took a look at her garden. Pop's old shotgun had mowed off a whole row of tomatoes, seventeen, to be exact."

Medical Center

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Questions have been raised by various individuals whether or not Lincoln has the potential to become a medical center. It is understandable why a goodly number of individuals believe that Lincoln does not have the potential to become a medical center, since Lincoln does not have a medical college. I am sure if the individuals who have doubts concerning Lincoln's potential to become a great medical center would analyze what Lincoln has at present to offer toward the establishment of a medical center, there would be a great deal of enthusiasm by these individuals for the support of the proposed center, instead of doubts.

The following are a few of the existing conditions that give Lincoln the foundation for the establishment of a great medical center:

- (1) Lincoln enjoys the presence of well-trained specialists in medicine and surgery. This is paramount for a medical center.
- (2) Lincoln has established in one form or another but no coordinated form the basic components of the medical team; that is, there are in existence phases of a rehabilitation program, preventive medicine programs and a medical case program (acute and chronic). A medical center would co-ordinate these efforts and stimulate the development of those phases that are lacking.
- (3) Lincoln enjoys the presence of the state university of Nebraska which provides training for specialists in the various related areas of medicine, such as pharmacy, dentistry, speech and hearing therapists, special education teachers for the handicapped, etc. The university has excellent basic science departments which have the potential to aid the development of a medical research program which is needed in any great medical center.

It should not be overlooked that a medical center with adequate diagnostic facilities and also facilities for the other phases of medicine would stimulate in Lincoln the formation of a great medical center and would attract individuals who can contribute to such a development.

City-County Building

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Lincoln needs the proposed city-county building. The county building is obsolete, the City Hall is actually crumbling to pieces, and the county jail is a disgrace to the community. Add to this the fact that it is already necessary to rent additional space to house several of the departments necessary to carry on the business of these governmental subdivisions and you have a situation that certainly does not reflect the forward-looking temper of the community.

Part of the taxes necessary to retire the bonds for the city-county building are already being paid in extra rentals and excessive upkeep on the present buildings. We are simply not getting our money's worth in what we are now spending. For a small additional sum per year for each of us, we can produce a building which would be efficient, economical and would look towards the future expansion we are sure will come.

To plan this building as part of a civic center would help develop an area of dignity and beauty surrounding the State House of which all Nebraskans may well be proud. It would also add to the convenience of each of us when we have governmental business to transact. Those who build the structures which now stand showed their faith in the future of Lincoln by building for almost a century. Can we do less?

Each of the bond issues may be voted on separately. All of us must thoughtfully consider what we desire in the years to come for this lovely city. Certainly the city-county building is a "must."

Planes Over Pinewood

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The people of Lincoln have a beautiful setting at Pinewood Bowl, a place to relax and enjoy the fine summer programs given us. Anyone attending the past three events there must have thought they were witnessing a display by the Lincoln Air Force Base—especially at Lincoln High graduation when several interruptions in the program were necessary.

It is absolutely necessary for the jet bombers to scream over the bowl on evenings entertainments are scheduled? Preparedness is all right, yet I can't see where our war effort would be curtailed if practice maneuvers were silent during the programs or at least would take off to the north and not fly around and directly over the bowl.

I have attended three events

there thus far this summer, and each has been subjected to the ear-splitting roar of the "fly boys." A little consideration and co-operation by the commanding officer and a much better feeling would be experienced, as the general comment of people attending the programs seems to be a criticism of the uncalled-for disruption caused by the planes.

KENNETH RUSSELL

Editor's Note: Planes take off into the wind. That could be the answer to the criticism. ☆ ☆ ☆

U.S., Britain To Exchange More Atomic Secrets

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is expected to furnish Britain with secrets of atomic submarine construction under an agreement disclosed Thursday by the State Department and the Atomic Energy Commission.
In return for this and other information in fields in which this country had forged ahead, the United States expects to get various atomic research secrets Britain had discovered.
The agreement, signed here Wednesday, will run until July 1965. It has the effect of broadening a basic information exchange pact on atomic energy which Britain and the United States signed in July 1955 for a 10-year period.

Saves Britain 2 Years
British officials have said that Britain intends to build a nuclear-powered submarine and that the task would take two years longer unless British scientists and engineers could benefit by knowledge gained by U.S. pioneers in this field.
The United States launched the world's first atomic submarine, the Nautilus, in June 1954 and last year launched a second, the Sea-wolf. It has other undersea craft with atomic power plants under construction.

Naval experts say the advantages of nuclear fuel have radically changed the nature of undersea operations. It was recently reported that the Nautilus had covered more than 36,000 miles without refueling and it is known to be capable of very high speeds underwater.
The agreement announced Thursday was signed by British Ambassador Sir Roger Makins, Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the AEC and C. Burke Elbrick, deputy assistant secretary of state.

Under the Atomic Energy Act passed in 1954 to permit the United States to trade information with other countries, each such agreement must lie before Congress for 30 days before it can become effective. Congress does not have to express positive consent, but the waiting period gives the Joint Atomic Energy Committee of the House and Senate an opportunity to object to any provisions.
In practice, such provisions are normally discussed with the committee or its leadership before the agreements are signed and the waiting period therefore does not ordinarily produce objection.

Under the Atomic Energy Act passed in 1954 to permit the United States to trade information with other countries, each such agreement must lie before Congress for 30 days before it can become effective. Congress does not have to express positive consent, but the waiting period gives the Joint Atomic Energy Committee of the House and Senate an opportunity to object to any provisions.
In practice, such provisions are normally discussed with the committee or its leadership before the agreements are signed and the waiting period therefore does not ordinarily produce objection.

Boys' State Governor Asks 6 Bills; Road Measures Included

Cornhusker Boys' State Gov. Tom Rosch of Omaha went before the Boys' State Legislature Thursday to urge enactment of six proposals.

The measures would:

1. Lower the voting age in Nebraska to 18.
2. Establish supervised "drag strips" to be paid for by public funds and operated by "a legal constituted commission with full power to adopt rules and regulations for the use and government of such strips."

3. Memorialize the U. S. Congress to enact legislation for the extension of the Federal highway system and establishment of a national uniform motor vehicle laws.

4. Establish an Agricultural-Industrial Development and Co-Ordination Board which would gather and disseminate facts "for the education of all citizens in the promotion of the general welfare in social and business matters among the people of our state."

5. Change the Boys' State-Girls' State from Friday afternoon to evening sessions.

6. Make "mandatory" action on school re-districting and consolidation by making higher standards applicable to all schools "so that the small districts which could not comply be forced into a consolidated school form a school that could comply."

Re-districting Lagging

Rosch said re-districting in Nebraska has been lagging and "in many instances, no progress has been made."

Mead Urged As Army Engineer Quarters

Inactive Plant Currently On Standby Basis

OMAHA (U)—A proposal that the Army Engineer offices at Omaha be transferred to the inactive Nebraska Ordnance Plant at Mead, has been forwarded to Regional Director W. A. Holloway of the General Services Administration in Denver.

Marion Waller, superintendent of the GSA in Omaha, said he received the proposal from Edward A. Jaksha, president of the Fremont Chamber of Commerce, adding that Jaksha also had sent a copy of his letter to Nebraska Congressmen and Senators. Waller said he forwarded the letter to Holloway.

Advantages Cited

The proposal said that a great deal of office space is available at the ordnance plant installation, which is to remain on a standby basis, and they would "in many cases provide better quarters than the currently leased office space in Omaha."

Jaksha cited other advantages, but said the "first consideration is one of economy in government" and called this an "excellent opportunity to make a substantial contribution in that direction."

Brig. Gen. Gerald Galloway, division engineer, was out of town and a spokesman in his office said a copy of the proposal has not yet been received there.

There are about 200 workers in the division headquarters and about 750 in the district offices.

Waller said he had not yet received word from Holloway as to what steps had been taken in the light of Jaksha's proposal.

Oscar Warp Dies; Service Set Saturday

MINDEN, Neb.—Funeral services for Oscar Warp, 69, nationally known publisher of educational workbooks, will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at the First Christian Church here. His death in a local hospital followed an extended illness.

A former Kearney County superintendent of schools, Mr. Warp had been an educator most of his life. He formerly was a school teacher.

A native and lifelong resident of Minden, he was a member of the Odd Fellows, Masons, Rotary and Minden Chamber of Commerce. His four-color illustrations of the Kearney County Courthouse helped put Minden on the map as the Christmas City.

In 1946, with his brother, Harold of Chicago, founder of Pioneer Village at Minden, Oscar Warp gave the city a Carillon tower and public address system to enable the chamber to present its annual Christmas pageant.

During last fall's Kearney County Fair at Minden, Mr. Warp received a Good Citizenship Award for his contributions to his community and county.

Surviving are his wife, Ruth, past president of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs; his son, Paul, who together with his parents has been associated in the Warp Publishing Company; three brothers, Harold, John and Ed, all of Chicago; four sisters, Mrs. T. C. Jensen and Mrs. Harry Jensen, both of Minden, Mrs. Mads Christensen, of Ainsworth and Mrs. W. A. Johnson of Holdegre; and four grandchildren.

Annual EUB Meet At Kearney Attended By More Than 150

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP)—Some 150 ministers and lay members of the 104 active Evangelical United Brethren Churches in Nebraska are attending the 93rd annual Nebraska EUB conference.

The five-day conference opened with a communion service conducted by Bishop L. L. Baughman of Kansas City, Mo.

At business sessions Thursday the Rev. Paul L. Dick was reelected secretary of the conference. Reports by the conference superintendents included an announcement of the retirement of H. D. Keefe of Auburn, G. T. Savory of Lincoln and E. H. Sohl of a church near Ord.

Marion Knoell of Aurora, Harold Unweiler of Hastings and Ernest Boyer of Callaway were announced as candidates for a probationer's license.

The superintendents also discussed the status of mission churches and how to supply ministers whose congregations are not strong enough to support their church. Efforts will be made to yoke EUB missions with other denominations and have them served by either a conference pastor or a pastor from another denomination.

The younger set out in South Hills has the spotlight for a change and the reason must be due to the fact that school is out and now they have a chance to create some news. As is only natural, the boys are all scurrying off to camp and with great joy, we might add. You don't suppose they're glad to be out of school, do you? Why, that's impossible.

Charles Hull left Monday for Camp Polk and will be returning home on Saturday. Charles is the son of Maj. and Mrs. Joseph Hull.

And Billy Holden, son of Maj. and Mrs. William Holden, and Craig Dodge, son of Capt. and Mrs. Hale Dodge, moved out to the Boy Scout Camp in Lincoln last Sunday afternoon for a week of fun.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Roy R. Showalter Jr. and their son, Roy III, will be leaving around July 1 for Montgomery, Ala., where Col. Showalter will spend 10 months at Staff and Command School. The Showalters are extremely pleased about their new location as Montgomery is their old home town.

There are several parties scheduled in honor of Mrs. Showalter's leaving. On Thursday, June 14, Mrs. Rudelle Webb and Mrs. Douglas Schwartz complimented her with a dessert-bridge party at the home of Mrs. Schwartz.

THIS AND THAT

THERE'S a little of this and a bit of that in the news this morning — Heard that Mr. and Mrs. Donald DuTeau of Kansas City, who have been the house guests of Mrs. DuTeau's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rosenlof; and Mr. DuTeau's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin DuTeau, left last Tuesday for Boulder, Colo., where they will attend the summer session at the University of Colorado.

Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. DuTeau to Boulder was Mr. DuTeau's cousin, Miss Margot DuTeau who also will attend summer school at the University of Colorado.

SPEAKING of plans for the summer — Just learned that Miss Courtney Campbell will be leaving a week from Monday for Bryn Afon Camp, near Rhineland, Wis., where she will serve as a counsellor until mid-August.

ONE OF the very busy June brides-elect is Miss Pat Pauley whose marriage to Robert Holmes will take place on June 27 — Miss Pauley's calendar for the current week includes almost as many courtesies in her honor as did last week's — and there are more to come.

Complimenting Miss Pauley last Tuesday was Mrs. H. T. Knudson who entertained at a luncheon and a kitchen shower at her home.

On Wednesday Miss Pauley was the incentive for a party when Mrs. Carl Temple and Mrs. Harry Ankeny were luncheon hostesses at Twin Pines, and honoring Miss Pauley on Thursday was Mrs. Albert Held who was a luncheon hostess at her home.

SOMEONE told us that Mrs. Joseph Gordon and her daughter, Kim, have arrived from Houston, Tex., for a few weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hof. Mrs. Gordon will be remembered as the former Barbara Hof.

SPEAKING of guests — Understand that Mrs. Walter Pfizenmayer, her son Robert, and her daughter, Melanie Jane, arrived from Levittown, Long Island, N.Y., a few days ago to spend a few weeks as the guests of Mrs. Pfizenmayer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Crosbie. Mrs. Pfizenmayer is the former Joyce Crosbie, Delta Gamma and Mortar Board at the University of Nebraska. Mr. and Mrs. Crosbie also have had as their guests their son and daughter-in-law, Mr.

and Mrs. James Crosbie and their children, James, Michael and Ann, who will leave today to return to their home in New Orleans after a week's stay in Lincoln.

To Attend Conference

Planning to attend the central region conference for young adults at Forest Beach Camp, New Buffalo, Mich., June 16 to 23, are four members of the Lincoln YWCA Live Y'ers Club, Miss June Finney, Miss Betty Glasser, Miss Arlene Johnson and Miss Delores Winquest.

They will be accompanied by Miss Mary Ellen Maronde, Young Adults program director for the Lincoln YW.

The conference, which will have as its theme, "One With Others," will include clinics, interest group meetings and workshops.

Thursday Ceremony

MRS. KENNETH MARK GILSON

Arrangements of yellow roses, greenery, and lighted candles appointed the chancel of the Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church in Talmage where the wedding of Miss Janet Mary Ann Birkmann of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Birkmann of Brock and Kenneth Mark Gilson, son of Mrs. Rosetta Gilson of Nebraska City, and H. M. Gilson of Los Angeles, took place on Thursday evening June 14. The 7:30 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. E. O. Eiben, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Gerald Peters of Lincoln, organist, who also accompanied the vocal soloist, Mrs. Kenneth Wellstrand of Cook.

Crisp, white frosted organza was chosen for the costumes of the attendants who were Mrs. Dale Seybert of Owe, her sister, the matron of honor, Mrs. John Bremer of Lincoln, and Mrs. Glen Grotian of Cook, the bridesmaids. Designed in the princess mode, the frocks had portrait necklines in fitted bodices and the skirts were ballerina-length. Each carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Miss Barbara Peters and Miss Ann Brehm lighted the candles, and the flower girl was Janet Gilson of Plattsmouth.

Eugene Gilson of Plattsmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Ross, their children, Candace, Daniel and Lanis, the Ross' niece, Elda Rae Reed, and Elda Rae's fiancé, A.3C Melvin Hess just recently spent a week end in Beaver, Mo., where they visited Elda Rae's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Reed.

Mrs. Wilnot Paxton decided this hot weather called for a cove party so she had one last Friday on her patio. Those present for the affair were Mrs. Joseph Hull, Mrs. Hale Dodge, Mrs. William Boudreaux, Mrs. Thane Minor, Mrs. William Howard, Mrs. William Holden, of Lincoln, Mrs. George Fletcher, Mrs. Elwin Smith, Mrs. Robert Gould, and Mrs. Del Brandt.

Club To Hear Guest Speaker

THIS AND THAT

THERE'S a little of this and a bit of that in the news this morning — Heard that Mr. and Mrs. Donald DuTeau of Kansas City, who have been the house guests of Mrs. DuTeau's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rosenlof; and Mr. DuTeau's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin DuTeau, left last Tuesday for Boulder, Colo., where they will attend the summer session at the University of Colorado.

Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. DuTeau to Boulder was Mr. DuTeau's cousin, Miss Margot DuTeau who also will attend summer school at the University of Colorado.

SPEAKING of plans for the summer — Just learned that Miss Courtney Campbell will be leaving a week from Monday for Bryn Afon Camp, near Rhineland, Wis., where she will serve as a counselor until mid-August.

ONE OF the very busy June brides-elect is Miss Pat Pauley whose marriage to Robert Holmes will take place on June 22 — Miss Pauley's calendar for the current week includes almost as many courtesies in her honor as did last week's — and there are more to come.

Complimenting Miss Pauley last Tuesday was Mrs. H. T. Knudson who entertained at a luncheon and a kitchen shower at her home.

On Wednesday Miss Pauley was the incentive for a party when Mrs. Carl Temple and Mrs. Harry Ankeny were luncheon hostesses at Twin Pines, and honoring Miss Pauley on Thursday was Mrs. Albert Held who was a luncheon hostess at her home.

SOMEONE told us that Mrs. Joseph Gordon and her daughter, Kim, have arrived from Houston, Tex., for a few weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hof. Mrs. Gordon will be remembered as the former Barbara Hof.

SPEAKING of guests — Understand that Mrs. Walter Pfizenmayer, her son Robert, and her daughter, Melanie Jane, arrived from Levittown, Long Island, N.Y., a few days ago to spend a few weeks as the guests of Mrs. Pfizenmayer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Crosby. Mrs. Pfizenmayer is the former Joyce Crosby, Delta Gamma and Mortar Board at the University of Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Crosby also have had as their guests their son and daughter-in-law, Mr.

and Mrs. James Crosby and their children, James, Michael and Ann, who will leave today to return to their home in New Orleans after a week's stay in Lincoln.

To Attend Conference

Planning to attend the central region conference for young adults at Forest Beach Camp, New Buffalo, Mich., June 16 to 23, are four members of the Lincoln YWCA Live Yers Club, Miss June Finney, Miss Betty Glasser, Miss Arlene Johnson and Miss Delores Winquest.

They will be accompanied by Miss Mary Ellen Maronde, Young Adults program director for the Lincoln YW.

The conference, which will have as its theme, "One With Others," will include clinics, interest group meetings and workshops.

Thursday Ceremony

MRS. KENNETH MARK GILSON

Arrangements of yellow roses, greenery, and lighted candles appointed the chancel of the Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church in Talmage where the wedding of Miss Janet Mary Ann Birkmann of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Birkmann of Brock and Kenneth Mark Gilson, son of Mrs. Rosetta Gilson of Nebraska City, and H. M. Gilson of Los Angeles, took place on Thursday evening June 14. The 7:30 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. E. O. Eiben, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Gerald Peters of Lincoln, organist, who also accompanied the vocal soloist, Mrs. Kenneth Wellsandt of Cook.

Crisp, white frosted organy was chosen for the costumes of the attendants who were Mrs. Dale Seybert of Oteo, her sister's matron of honor; Mrs. John Bremer of Lincoln, and Mrs. Glen Grotrian of Cook, the bridesmaids. Designed in the princess mode, the frocks had portrait necklines in fitted bodices, and the skirts were ballerina-length. Each carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Miss Barbara Peters and Miss Ann Brehm lighted the candles, and the flower girl was Janet Gilson of Plattsmouth.

Eugene Gilson of Platt-mouth served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Earl Frederick, Nebraska City; John Bremer, Lincoln; Richard Peters and James Walters.

The Empire mode was suggested in the styling of the bridal gown of white satin. The long-sleeved bodice, fashioned with a locket neckline, was smoothly sculptured to a narrow waist beneath which the voluminous skirt extended into an aisle-wide train. A sequin-dotted half hat held to the head her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of red and white roses centered with white orchids.

After the reception, held in the church parlors, Mr. Gilson and his bride left for a southern honeymoon trip after which they will return to Lincoln where they will reside at 3701 Garfield St. For traveling Mrs. Gilson wore a box-jacket suit of powder blue linen, with black accessories.

Attending the couple were Miss Colleen Reineke of Kansas City, Mo., sister of the bridegroom, and James Wolf of Manhattan Beach, Calif.

The bride wore for her wedding a softly tailored ensemble in beige wool with matching accessories.

Following a short visit in Lincoln, Mr. Reineke and his bride will leave for Nicaragua where they will spend the summer months on a combined business and pleasure trip.

A former student at Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., the bride has attended the University of Nebraska and the Kansas City Art Institute. Army Raps 'Negligent' Officers

... In Drownings

CAPE HENRY, Va. (AP)—Two Army officers and one enlisted man have received reprimands for "varying degrees of negligence" in the drowning of three enlisted men here May 8.

In addition, the enlisted man has been reduced in rank one grade.

There will be no court-martial of the three, however, a report of the findings by a Board of Inquiry disclosed Thursday.

The reprimanded officers are Lt. Rex D. Brock, 24, of Stafford, Kan., and Capt. William M. Dean, 34, of St. Alabam, Los Angeles, Calif. The enlisted man is Sgt. Jack L. Haskins of Lorton, Va.

Cancelation Ordered

Brock was reprimanded, the report said, for failure to appreciate fully the possible existence of a hazardous condition and to take maximum precautions while in charge of a platoon undergoing training when the fatal accident occurred.

Dean was reprimanded for failure to exercise proper command supervision.

Sgt. Haskins was reduced one grade for absenting himself from his platoon during the training and consequently not being available when the accident occurred.

Three members of a five-man crew aboard a LVT drowned while attempting to round a retaining wall jutting from the beach of this amphibious training post.

Krush Urges Girls Consider Mental Health Work Field

Dr. Thaddeus Krush, clinical director of community services for the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute at the University of Nebraska College of Medicine, in a speech delivered to Girls' State delegates Thursday afternoon, urged the girls to consider the field of mental health in determining their future plans.

Dr. Krush, who is presently engaged in a statewide campaign devoted to community education on mental health, said that there is "a tremendous need for professional workers in the field of mental illness" and that Nebraska is rapidly approaching the forefront in "producing trained professionals" for the field. He particularly urged Girls' State to consider psychiatric nursing and psychiatric social work.

Thursday evening the girls listened to speeches by Mrs. Carl Swanson, Jr., Thomas J. Gorman and Miles W. Johnston.

Speaking of Beauty by Ralph

VOLUMES of poetry have honored ladies with lovely hands. A million words of advertising poked fun at "dish-pan hands." In this modern day there's little excuse for unattractive hands—even the busiest ones!

A salon manicure needn't be a luxury, or a desperate effort to remodel neglected hands in 15 minutes. Even if you don't have a manicure every time you get a hairdo, plan on a professional manicure at least once a month. It takes an expert to soften cuticle, smooth away rough edges, find dainty half-moons at your fingertips. An artist can paint on polish so your fingers look longer, slimmer. And once your fingers have had a professional "do," it's easier for you to keep them nice longer.

Wear latex gloves when hands are in soapy water. Keep your old leather dress gloves for gardening. After you've worked with lukewarm water and toilet soap with an oil base, rub cream into the sides of your fingers (where hard edges develop) while you're watching TV. And did you know high-calcium foods (meat, eggs, milk) make nails stronger?

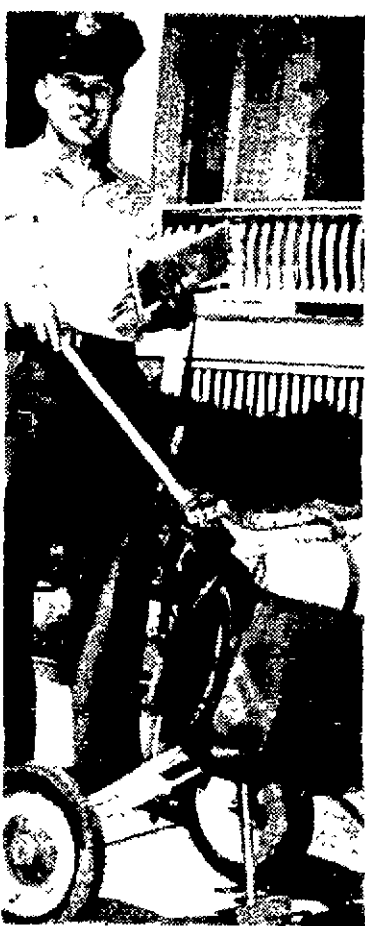

THE ORIENTAL LOOK in hairdos doesn't necessarily mean straight lines and a high chignon. We know lots of ways to give a wicked new flip to a hairline... a soft bang with a new line... or just a raising of hair at the temples that brings out a natural upward slant to your eyes. (Mighty exotic!) If you'd like to be a bit of a temptress, we'll show you how your hair can help.

That Oriental curve of the eye is done with eye-pencil, applied in a tiny upward line at the outside corners of your eyes. Skillfully placed shadow just above the eye—but practice at home first, in a good light!

Richard C. Herpolsheimer, mail carrier of 2140 St. Marys, finds it easier to push the mail around, than carry it. "No more back aches," commented Herpolsheimer, who has used the government-issued "golf cart" for the past 18 months. Postal officials estimated that five of these carts are being used in Lincoln since adopted experimentally two years ago. About five or six more carriers have requested them. But most of the 89 city carriers find it harder just to go on toting a mail bag, despite its 30 or 40 pound weight. Some routes are more adapted to the cart than others. "My route is pretty level, few curbs," explained Herpolsheimer, who finds the cart to be "a very good thing." (Star Photo.)

High Court Asked Keep Jurisdiction In Loan Firm Case

The State Supreme Court was asked Thursday to retain jurisdiction of the Associates Discount case and to name a referee to hear it.

The finance company in a separate motion was accused of a "contemptuous violation" of a restraining order issued against the Indiana concern last December when the court appointed Theodore Richting of Omaha to take charge of its affairs in Nebraska.

The company is alleged to have violated the restraining order by taking default judgment in District Court at Omaha last month in four replevin cases.

The action against Associates Discount stems from a complaint filed in Omaha last year by the attorney general's office alleging the company was operating a loan business in Nebraska without a license.

Attorney General C. S. Beck appealed after the District Court sustained the company's demurrer. The Supreme Court last month found there was "cause for action" and sent the matter back to the District Court.

Injection Of Ohio Pen Inmates Begins Study Of Live Cancer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Fourteen Ohio Penitentiary inmates were injected Thursday with live cancer cells in the first phase of a major study of the disease.

Warden Ralph W. Alvis said Dr. Alice Moore and Dr. Chester M. Southam of the Sloan-Kettering Institute in New York administered the injections into the inmates' forearms.

Some 134 inmates had volunteered to participate in the research program. Ohio State University researchers will examine the 14 daily.

The cancer cells were taken from test tubes where they have grown. A spokesman for the cancer foundation said the volunteers will be in no serious danger. He explained that any cancer injection which might take effect would spread slowly and remain in the immediate area of the inoculation.

Doctors said the research program may provide information as to how the noncancerous individual's body reaction kills off foreign cancer cells transplanted into it.

The 14 inmates injected are between 25 and 55 and had sentences ranging up to life.

THE LINCOLN STAR 11

Omahan Says Law Is Unconstitutional

OMAHA (AP)—Douglas County Attorney Eugene F. Fitzgerald Thursday called "unconstitutional" the Nebraska law under which he might be ousted from his elective office.

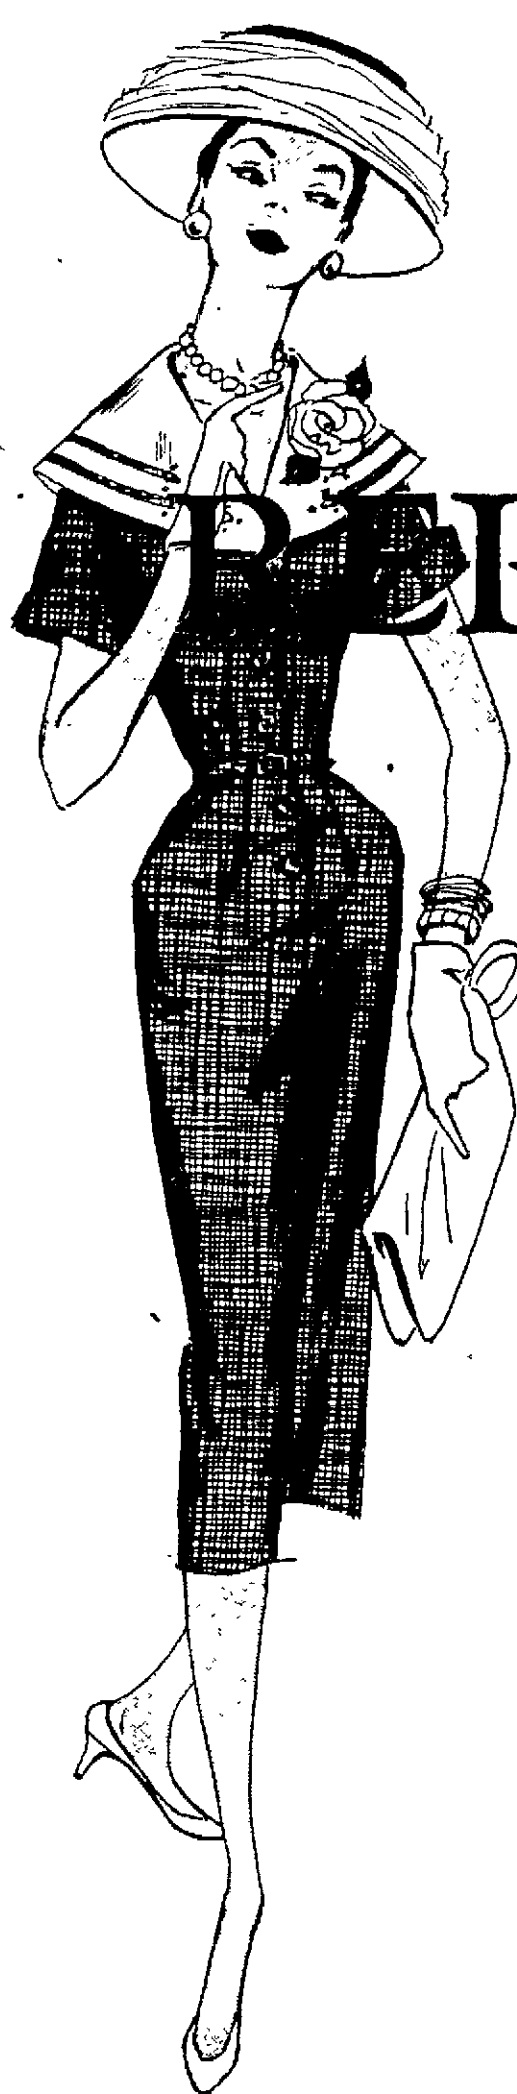

In a hearing before District Judge Edmund Nuss of Hastings August Ross, attorney for Fitzgerald, argued that the Legislature in a 1935 amendment had no authority to provide for any method of removal of a constitutional office holder.

Judge Nuss had been asked to hear the question of whether Fitzgerald created a vacancy in his office by filing as a candidate for the district court bench. Omaha judges preferred not to hear the case because an Omaha judgeship was involved and Fitzgerald's father is an Omaha judge.

Ross held that the 1935 amendment sought "to prevent the holder of a constitutional office to run for another elective office."

Albert E. May, attorney for Election Commissioner Herman E. Kuppinger, said the Legislature passed the 1935 amendment to prevent such abuses as one public official failing to do his own work because he was too busy running for another office.

Judge Nuss heard arguments and then granted attorneys time to ask the Nebraska attorney general whether he wants to enter the case because the constitutionality of a state law has been challenged.

... In Drownings

CAPE HENRY, Va. (AP)—Two Army officers and one enlisted man have received reprimands for "varying degrees of negligence" in the drowning of three enlisted men here May 8.

In addition, the enlisted man has been reduced in rank one grade.

There will be no court-martial of the three, however, a report of the findings by a Board of Inquiry disclosed Thursday.

The reprimanded officers are Lt. Rex D. Brock, 24, of Stafford, Kan., and Capt. William M. Dean, 34, of St. Alahambra, Los Angeles, Calif. The enlisted man is Sgt. Jack L. Haskins of Lorton, Va.

Cancellation Ordered

Brock was reprimanded, the report said, for failure to appreciate fully the possible existence of a hazardous condition and to take maximum precautions while in charge of a platoon undergoing training when the fatal accident occurred. Brock earlier had directed that the scheduled water phase of the training be canceled because of weather conditions.

Dean, Brock's commanding officer, was reprimanded for failure to exercise proper command supervision.

Sgt. Haskins was reduced one grade for absenting himself from his platoon during the training and consequently not being available when the accident occurred.

Omahan Says Law Is Unconstitutional

OMAHA (AP)—Douglas County Attorney Eugene F. Fitzgerald Thursday called "unconstitutional" the Nebraska law under which he might be ousted from his elective office.

In a hearing before District Judge Edmund Nuss of Hastings August Ross, attorney for Fitzgerald, argued that the Legislature in a 1935 amendment had no authority to provide for any method of removal of a constitutional office holder.

Judge Nuss had been asked to hear the question of whether Fitzgerald created a vacancy in his office by filing as a candidate for the district court bench. Omaha judges preferred not to hear the case because an Omaha judgeship was involved and Fitzgerald's father is an Omaha judge.

Ross held that the 1935 amendment sought "to prevent the holder of a constitutional office to run for another elective office."

Albert E. May, attorney for Election Commissioner Herman E. Kuppinger, said the Legislature passed the 1935 amendment to prevent such abuses as one public official failing to do his own work because he was too busy running for another office.

Judge Nuss heard arguments and then granted attorneys time to ask the Nebraska attorney general whether he wants to enter the case because the constitutionality of a state law has been challenged.

Youth Dies As Truck Rolls Over 3 Times

Death Brings '56 Highway Toll To 130

FREMONT, Neb. (U)—James H. O'Connor, 17, of Ralston, was killed Thursday when a truck in which he was riding rolled over three times after a right rear tire blew out.

Sheriff Pelham McGee said the mishap occurred about three miles north of Fremont on Highway 77. After overturning, the truck landed upright on the shoulder of the road.

Treated at a Fremont hospital for injuries and dismissed were Jerry Sedlacek, 17, of Omaha, and Jack Stewart, 17, of Ralston.

McGee and Deputy County Attorney Joseph Swoboda said Sedlacek was driving the truck owned by the K. B. Food Co. of Omaha and the three were en route to Norfolk with a load of food.

The officials said the truck skidded about 50 feet before rolling over, scattering food along the highway. A gash about 10 feet long was cut in the highway surface by the truck's right rear wheel.

The death boosted the state highway fatality toll for the year to 130 as compared to 125 at this time in 1955.

Longtime Seward Doctor Retiring; 51 Years Service

SEWARD, Neb. — Dr. B. E. Morrow, senior member of the Seward County Medical Association, announced his plans to retire July 1, after 51 years of service.

Dr. Morrow, a native of Murray, received his medical training at Cotner University Medical College, Lincoln, and practiced five years at Funk, Neb., before coming to Seward. He joined his two brothers, the late Dr. Joseph Morrow, who had practiced at Garland, and Dr. Milton Morrow, who came to Seward in 1898.

Dr. B. E. Morrow was honored by the Nebraska Medical Association last year on the golden anniversary of his practice.

La Rosee Should Never Receive Parole Says Attorney Fitzgerald

OMAHA (U)—Douglas County Attorney Eugene Fitzgerald said Thursday he has written the State Board of Pardons and Paroles recommending that James Thomas La Rosee should "under no circumstances be paroled."

La Rosee was sentenced to life imprisonment on his conviction of first degree murder in the slaying of Omaha taxicab driver Erick William Burkwick Dec. 4, 1955.

Fitzgerald's letter recommended that La Rosee "should be confined in the Nebraska State Penitentiary for the rest of his natural life."

"This letter is written because the writer recognizes that it is extremely possible and very probable that the personnel of your board, the Douglas County attorney's office and the Nebraska State Penitentiary may be completely changed by the time any consideration may be given to a release of La Rosee," Fitzgerald said.

He attached a summary of La Rosee's record showing he was involved in numerous arson cases, car thefts and armed robberies.

Fitzgerald said he usually does not make a recommendation on the duration of a prison sentence.

Wheat Sample 'Sets Record'

Lincoln Star Special HUMBOLDT, Neb. — A sample of fully matured wheat delivered to the Humboldt Grain Co. Thursday breaks the record for the Humboldt area and possibly Richardson County, according to George Sinnett, manager of the elevator.

Sinnett said wheat usually starts to come in the last week in June or the first week in July.

Fred and Glendon Luthy brought in the wheat sample. The wheat was of the Wichita variety, not generally planted in the Humboldt area. It tested 61 pounds and contained 15 per cent moisture.

While the moisture content is considered high for milling qualities, the weight is considered good. The yield was estimated at between 20 and 25 bushels per acre.

I was in the bookstore the other day and see that Mr. Arnold Gesell has written a book on children between 10 and 14. I have not read it. Nor do I intend to, having plenty of work on my hands understanding a child at 12 going on 13.

I read a little of Gesell when he was writing about what a child thinks between one and six years. But on this one, he loses me. What a child thinks between 10 and 14 is a mystery. And I don't think Gesell or anybody else has cracked the code.

'We will just have to face it. The child is NOT a scholar.' The teacher said it with a between-us-adults smile. I guess she wanted to break it to me gently.

School ended the other day. And we usually go down to chin with the teachers and get a little pat on the back for letting them wrestle our offspring around for a year.

'She doesn't seem to want to keep her mind on it. Though she's bright enough.'

It threw me out of character. But I tried to look as though I had been called on for a Supreme Court decision.

If the good teacher thought she was breaking my heart, she didn't know how much I have toughened up over the past 12 years. It is no news to me that this child will set no studios world aflame. We are both going through the time together, gritting our teeth.

I was glad nobody asked me what she was keeping her mind on. Since it was not on school work.

What is a child's mind on when you send her out to empty the garbage? And find her walking barefoot with the garbage can in the garage. I would like Gesell to answer that one.

She celebrated her escape from this year's school by climbing out a forbidden school window, managing to break $30 worth of pane in the process. We had a time that night!

It was determined that this was a serious offense. And that she should pay for it. The idea being that this would give her a sense of values. It looked like a terrible punishment on an allowance of 50 cents a week.

On the next day she walked in calmly with an ice cream cone and handed me $5.

"Where did you get it?" I asked. "Baby sitting," she said. "Look. You didn't crack the child's piggy bank, did you?" I have dreams of gun molls in the family.

I have dipped into this child's mind in a spirit of research. But I find it something like looking into a den of cobras. I made a little list once of what she thought about:

Rats: "White rats that we could raise." Jayne Mansfield: "Did you really ask to her? And what did she say?" Marriage: There is a boy named Robert she wouldn't marry even if he asked her. On inquiry, I find he has not asked her. Careers: If somebody in the movies from Hollywood came around and asked if she could go to Hollywood and be in the movies, you know? Well, what would I say? I would say, yes. Why would I say yes? I would say yes because than she would make a million dollars and I would take half. Oh.

This is just a medium sample of what goes on in a child's 12-year mind. It hardly scratches the surface. And it is no wonder that she does not keep her mind on her school work. She couldn't keep her mind on half of what she is thinking now without a mechanical brain to help.

On inquiry, I find he has not asked her. Careers: If somebody in the movies from Hollywood came around and asked if she could go to Hollywood and be in the movies, you know? Well, what would I say? I would say, yes. Why would I say yes? I would say yes because she would make a million dollars and I would take half. Oh.

This is just a medium sample of what goes on in a child's 12-year mind. It hardly scratches the surface. And it is no wonder that she does not keep her mind on her school work. She couldn't keep her mind on half of what she is thinking now without a mechanical brain to help.

Administration Blamed In Air Power Lag

WASHINGTON (INS) — Trevor Gardner accused the administration Thursday of avoiding decisions that would "assure our staying ahead" of the Russians in the entire field of air power.

The former assistant Air Force secretary for research and development who resigned in a dispute with the administration, said there is danger the Russians will get the intermediate range ballistic missile before the U.S. does.

Gardner, testifying before the

He said he resigned because he was "convinced" that funds allowed for the Air Force would "guarantee us a second best Air Force in the future."

"Lack of Money"

Under questioning by Democrats, Gardner said that qualitatively, the U.S. is superior in the skies today but "for lack of money we have set up a system that will in all probability lose the qualitative race to the Russians in the future."

Questioned by Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa.), Gardner agreed that substantial progress in missiles has been made since the Eisenhower administration took office which he could not discuss for security reasons.

Bickering broke out between Democrats and Duff when the latter asked "Does the U.S. have in substantial development a new missile that could reach the heartland of the Eurasian continent that you can't discuss because of security?"

Gardner replied, "correct."

Democrats asked Duff from what point such a missile would be launched and the GOP senator replied he meant "any place the Navy might have."

Closed Session

Pressed further by Democrats, Duff said that by "substantial development," he meant a missile that could be expected to be operational in 1960.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

WL Heads Here To Discuss Soos' Request

Western League directors will convene at 10 a.m. Friday morning at the Cornhusker Hotel to deal with the problem created when Sioux City threatened to quit the league.

Sky Sox Knock Chiefs Off 1st Place Perch, 4-3

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star
Colorado Springs knocked the Lincoln Chiefs out of first place in the Western League with a 4-3 victory at Sherman Field Thursday night.

It was the first Chiefs' loss in seven games and this is the first time Lincoln has been out of first since May 23rd. Topeka, which had been in a tight race with the Chiefs a half game back, skipped into the top spot by defeating Pueblo, 5-4.

Thursday night's attendance of 1,007 boosted the season's total at Sherman Field to more than 30,000—30,066 to be exact.

Lincoln and Colorado Springs meet in the second game of the series tonight at Sherman Field. Game time is 8 p.m., and it will be Outdoor Nebraska Night. There will be live animal and snakes at the park, as well as other interesting exhibits from the State Game Commission.

Dom Rosello (3-3) is slated to start for the Chiefs, while Russ Heman (5-3) will go for Jack Conway's Sky Sox.

Thursday night the Chiefs couldn't perform the magic they've become noted for in recent contests. Bob Lowe allowed 10 safeties, but he kept them well-scattered and forced the long-ball hitting Chiefs to keep the ball in the park.

Several times the Chiefs had a chance for big innings, only to have Lowe shut the door.

In the first, Lincoln loaded the sacks with none out, and tallied a lone run when Bill Jackson hit into a double play. Lowe then got Dick Stuart to fly out to end the threat.

Reggie Grenald scored in the second when he singled to center. Joe Zavattaro singled to left and Bennie Daniels—who forced Joe on a double play ball—was safe on Gene Sheets' second error at first.

The Sky Sox took a 3-2 lead off Daniels in the seventh when Sheets hit a three-run homer over the left-centerfield wall. But Bennie escaped the loss when he was lifted for a pinchhitter in the seventh, seventh by beating out an infield hit and raced to third when Lowe, who fielded the ball, threw into the Sky Sox bullpen.

Sam Miley then hit for Daniels and doubled to score Goss and tie up the contest at 3-3.

Bill Nordberg came on to chuck the final two frames and was tagged.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star
Today Western League directors, long-suffering and acclimated to problems of gigantic proportions, gather in Lincoln to wrestle with another serious situation.

Sioux City has threatened—purely because of economic pressures—to drop from the league and the directors, led by President O'Neal Hobbs, must come up with a solution.

Immediate reaction to Sioux City's plight is one of sympathy for Adam Pratt, the owner and operator of the Soos and a charter member—with Hobbs and Lincoln's A. Q. Schimmel—of the present-day Western League.

Pratt is one of the nicest and most-able executives in minor league baseball. The only individual owner of a Western League club (Des Moines) is owned by the Chicago Cubs and the others are civic corporations. Pratt has spent thousands of dollars of his own money to keep baseball in Sioux City.

For him baseball has been a losing proposition, not absorbed by a large mass of stockholders or supported by civic donations. It's his Pratt in the pocket book that counts.

And this isn't the first year Adam has felt the pinch. Poor attendance has plagued him in the past, but because of his love for baseball and his interest in the Western League, he has continued to struggle against the odds.

But now Pratt has reached the point where he can't see his way clear to continue feeding a dead horse. He has told President Hobbs that he's throwing in the towel on July 1, unless three demands are met:

1. The league vote a split season.
2. The league help the Soos get better player talent.
3. Sioux City civic group or group sell at least $10,000 worth of tickets.

While the league probably could fulfill the second demand

The first Sioux City request, and most important one for the directors to consider, calls for a split season.

There was strong indication that this would be opposed by the directors, but none were willing to make any predictions Thursday.

A. Q. Schimmel, president of the Lincoln Chiefs, said Thursday afternoon:

"This meeting will not be a happy gathering because of the seriousness of the situation. I don't know what course will be taken."

"I do think it will be best to be big-hearted and co-operative, because it is imperative that we see the league through to a successful conclusion of the season."

"Adam Pratt is a founder of the Western League. He has been a loyal member and a terrific help through all our troubles. His advice and counsel have been invaluable in the past, and he certainly doesn't deserve the trouble that has befallen him."

Schimmel also stressed that whatever course the directors take "definitely will be for the good of the league and the decision should be supported wholeheartedly."

Sioux City has a working agreement with the St. Louis Cardinals, but the Soos have not received capable Class A talent and have won only 12 games this year, trailing the first-place Chiefs by 23 games.

Pratt's other demands include (2) help from the Western League clubs in the form of good players; (3) Sioux City civic clubs undertake to sell $10,000 worth of tickets.

"I understand President Hobbs has lined up some player help for Sioux City," Schimmel said Thursday.

Opposition to a split season very likely will come because of scheduling difficulties, the fact that it wasn't agreed on prior to the season and the damage it would inflict on the other seven clubs.

There are several alternatives to the split season and several possibilities should Sioux City decide to quit the league. Among them are:

1. The Soos could become a road team, operated by the league. They would play all of their remaining games on the road. The gate split would go to the league which would pay all expenses.
2. The league could operate the Soos in Sioux City.
3. The franchise could be moved to another town.
4. New owners could be found in Sioux City.

The latter point might be difficult since Pratt, in addition to owning the club, also owns the ball park.

But I don't know what the Sioux City civic clubs or Chamber of Commerce will do."

Sioux City's plight, playwiser, is "one of those incredible things in baseball," according to Schimmel.

"It proves that a working agreement—and the Soos have a good one with the Cards—isn't worth much if the organization doesn't have players to give you."

"It is my understanding that St. Louis just can't give them any help because they haven't got it to give," he continued. "Walter Shannon (Cardinal farm director) has indicated St. Louis would help financially if suitable players are located, but the problem is finding them. This is a bad time of the year to shop for baseball players."

Rhubarbs Spice Play; Rosburg Early Leader

By WILL GRIMSLEY
ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Two internationally famous golfers — England's Henry Cotton and Masters champion Jack Burke — escaped disqualification Thursday as a succession of rhubarbs marred the first round of the National Open Golf Tournament.

Bob Rosburg, a bespectacled, 29-year-old former Stanford athlete from Palo Alto, Calif., shot into the lead with a two-under-par 68, two strokes better than Australia's Peter Thomson, but these developments were overshadowed by a series of rules meetings.

At times the Oak Hill Country Club course resembled a heated session of the United Nations.

Dire Straits
PGA champion Doug Ford also got into the lead with the rules committee when he dropped a ball and then abandoned it on one hole, but he got out with only a two-stroke penalty.

He had come in with a 69 for second place, the only other man to crack Oak Hill's tough par 70, but the USGA brass pushed his score up to 71.

Burke faced disqualification for signing an improper score-card—an act which normally brings automatic suspension. He autographed a card giving him a 75 when he actually had a 76.

He had refused to check the card at the 18th hole, saying "I'm too tired."

The rules committee, invoking a rule of leniency for the first time in its history in such a case, refused to erase Burke completely but instead assessed him two extra strokes, giving the Masters champion a 78 instead of 76.

Called On Carpet
Cotton was called on the carpet for allegedly stroking his ball twice while running in a putt on the 17th green. Some said he took a 6 there. Cotton insisted he had a 5.

After more than two hours' deliberation, the USGA rules committee said they would take the word of the English master.

Schoendienst Stoic After Trade

Mr. Redbird Sent To Giants In 4-4 Swap

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Red Schoendienst, Mr. Redbird himself, went to the New York Giants Thursday in a four-for-four trade which brought veteran Alvin Dark to the St. Louis Cardinals.

The 33-year-old Schoendienst, a veteran of 12 seasons with the Cardinals, took the news of the trade in the same stoic manner he plays second base.

"That's the way the ball bounces," he said.

General Manager Frank Lane, moving quickly before the deadline on trading at midnight Friday dealt off Schoendienst, outfielder Jackie Brandt, catcher Bill Sarni and pitcher Dick Littlefield for shortstop Dark, first baseman Whitely Lockman, catcher Ray Kat and pitcher Don Liddle.

Tough To Lose
"Red was the toughest to give up," Lane said. "He's the type of ball player who could go out and make five errors in a row and the fans wouldn't be mad at him. But then again, Dark is good, too."

Lane said he will use Dark, who is also 33, at shortstop, switching rookie Don Blasingame to second, his natural position.

"We felt that, without defense on our infield, we couldn't call ourselves a contender," Lane said. Blasingame did a "courageous" job at shortstop but will fare better at second, Lane predicted.

Improve Cards
Lane said that Dark wasn't the "great ball player he was five years ago" but he still would improve the Cards at shortstop. Lockman will go to first, replacing Wally Moon who will play the outfield.

Katt will alternate with Hal Smith behind the plate, the fast-dealing Lane added.

He said he was sorry to give up young Brandt, 1955 Rookie of the year in the International League, but "After all, the Giants wanted to help themselves out, too."

Lane saw Brandt as a good prospect but not quite ready for stardom.

Schoendienst was known as a clutch hitter in his years here, but it was his fielding that made him a standout with St. Louis fans. He was especially good on the double play.

In New York, the Giants indicated Schoendienst, as expected, will play second base; Daryl Spencer will move into the vacant shortstop slot and Sarni will replace Wes Westrum behind the plate.

Brandt will be played in the outfield; right away, a club spokesman said, adding Littlefield would be spotted as a starting pitcher.

Batting .310
Schoendienst, out of the lineup for some time, with a sore arm, was hitting .310 when traded. Last year in 145 games he batted .268. Sarni's latest average was .291, Brandt's .286, and left-hander Littlefield was .0-2 for the year, coming to the Cards early this season from Pittsburgh.

Welch Hurls No-Hitter As Optimists Win 6-0

... Second Straight Mound Gem
Lincoln Star Special
GRAND ISLAND — Dick Welch pitched the Lincoln Optimists to their second straight no-hit victory Thursday night, 6-0 over Fairacres Dairy.

Tuesday night Jan Wall held Omaha Countrywide hitless. Welch, in his third year of Legion competition, used a blazing fast ball and a good change of pace to keep the Grand Island hitters off balance.

Welch struck out 13 as he scored his second victory. He has now fanned 37 in two starts this year. Earlier this spring, Welch pitched a no-hitter for Lincoln High against Boys Town.

The Optimists again left a whopping total of runners on base, 16, but set a steady scoring pace.

Lincoln scored in the third inning when Harold Kelly walked with the bases loaded.

In the fifth, the Optimists got a pair with two out. Kelly singled, Bob Stein and Ron Long walked, and Welch singled for the two runs.

A bunt single by Kelly in the sixth drove in two more as Don Wenzl scored all the way from second base behind Jim Fox, who was on third. The Optimists wrapped it up in the ninth as Rich Luft singled, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and scored on an error.

The Optimists, now sporting a 3-1 record, play at Hastings Sunday night. Team Manager George Fenger announced that season tickets for the Optimists' five home games will go on sale today at Rupperts' Pharmacy and Alvord's.

For seven years the stadium had been the home of the Grand Rapids Rockets of the International Hockey League. The building was completed in 1949 at a cost of more than a million dollars, and was used as a hockey rink and an auditorium for various sports and theatrical enterprises.

Sky Sox Knock Chiefs Off 1st Place Perch, 4-3

Colorado Springs knocked the Lincoln Chiefs out of first place in the Western League with a 4-3 victory at Sherman Field Thursday night.

It was the first Chiefs' loss in seven games and this is the first time Lincoln has been out of first since May 23rd. Topeka, which had been in a tight race with the Chiefs a half game back, skipped into the top spot by defeating Pueblo, 5-4.

Thursday night's attendance of 1,007 boosted the season's total at Sherman Field to more than 30,000—30,066 to be exact.

Lincoln and Colorado Springs meet in the second game of the series tonight at Sherman Field. Game time is 8 p.m., and it will be Outdoor Nebraska Nite. There will be live animal and snakes at the park, as well as other interesting exhibits from the State Game Commission.

Dom Rosello (3-3) is slated to start for the Chiefs, while Russ Heman (5-3) will go for Jack Conway's Sky Sox.

Thursday night the Chiefs couldn't perform the magic they've become noted for in recent contests. Bob Lowe allowed 10 safeties, but he kept them well-scattered and forced the long-ball hitting Chiefs to keep the ball in the park.

Several times the Chiefs had a chance for big innings, only to have Lowe shut the door.

In the first, Lincoln loaded the sacks with none out, and tallied a lone run when Bill Jackson hit into a double play. Lowe then got Dick Stuart to fly out to end the threat.

Reggie Grenalda scored in the second when he singled to center. Joe Zavattaro singled to left and Bennie Daniels — who forced Joe on a double play ball — was safe on Gene Sheets' second error at first.

The Sky Sox took a 3-2 lead off Daniels in the seventh when Sheets hit a three-run homer over the left-centerfield wall. But Bennie escaped the loss when he was lifted for pinchhitter in the seventh. For a pinchhitter in the seventh, seventh by beating out an infield hit and raced to third when Lowe, who fielded the ball, threw into the Sky Sox bullpen.

Sam Miley then hit for Daniels and doubled to score Goss and tie up the contest at 3-3.

Bill Nordberg came on to chuck the final two frames and was tagged.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star

Today Western League directors, long-suffering and acclimated to problems of gigantic proportions, gather in Lincoln to wrestle with another serious situation.

Sioux City has threatened—purely because of economic pressures—to drop from the league and the directors, led by President O'Neal Hobbs, must come up with a solution.

Immediate reaction to Sioux City's plight is one of sympathy for Adam Pratt, the owner and operator of the Soos and a charter member—with Hobbs and Lincoln's A. Q. Schimmel—of the present-day Western League.

Pratt is one of the nicest and most-able executives in minor league baseball. The only individual owner of a Western League club (Des Moines is owned by the Chicago Cubs and the others are civic corporations), Pratt has spent thousands of dollars of his own money to keep baseball in Sioux City.

For him baseball has been a losing proposition, not absorbed by a large mass of stockholders or supported by civic donations. It's his Pratt in the pocket book but good.

And this isn't the first year Adam has felt the pinch. Poor attendance has plagued him in the past, but because of his love for baseball and his interest in the Western League, he has continued to struggle against the odds.

But now Pratt has reached the point where he can't see his way clear to continue feeding a dead horse. He has told President Hobbs that he's throwing in the towel on July 1, unless three demands are met:

1. The league vote a split season.
2. The league help the Soos get better player talent.
3. Sioux City civic group or group sell at least $10,000 worth of tickets.

While the league probably could fulfill the second demand

The first Sioux City request, and most important one for the directors to consider, calls for a split season.

There was strong indication that this would be opposed by the directors, but none were willing to make any predictions Thursday.

A. Q. Schimmel, president of the Lincoln Chiefs, said Thursday afternoon:

"This meeting will not be a happy gathering because of the seriousness of the situation. I don't know what course will be taken.

"I do think it will be best to be big-hearted and co-operative, because it is imperative that we see the league through to a successful conclusion of the season.

"Adam Pratt is a founder of the Western League. He has been a loyal member and a terrific help through all out troubles. His advice and counsel have been invaluable in the past, and he certainly doesn't deserve the trouble that has befallen him."

Schimmel also stressed that whatever course the directors take "definitely will be for the good of the league and the decision should be supported wholeheartedly."

Sioux City has a working agreement with the St. Louis Cardinals, but the Soos have not received capable Class A talent and have won only 12 games this year, trailing the first-place Chiefs by 23 games.

Pratt's other demands include (2) help from the Western League clubs in the form of good players; (3) Sioux City civic clubs undertake to sell $10,000 worth of tickets.

"I understand President Hobbs has lined up some player help for Sioux City," Schimmel said Thursday.

Mantle Finds Range, Raps 22nd Homer As Yanks Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle found the range Thursday with a 420-foot homer into right-center field, his 22nd of the year, and a one-run double as the New York Yankees beat the Chicago White Sox 5-1 and lengthened their lead over the second-place Sox to five full games.

This was Mantle's first homer since June 5 in Kansas City and it came with the bases empty in the seventh. His double in the third, scoring Joe Collins, was part of a Yankee outbreak that

Hergenrader Signs Red Sox Contract

Dick (Yogi) Hergenrader, Lincoln High and American Legion baseball star, Thursday signed contract with the Boston Red Sox for $4,000. He was assigned to the Red Sox' Nebraska State League farm club in Lexington, Neb.

Hergenrader, the most sought-after high school player in Lincoln history, received offers from eight major league clubs.

Yogi was a star infielder at Lincoln High from 1954 through 1955. He played three seasons of Legion ball, one with the Lincoln Elks and two with the Lincoln Optimists.

The hard-hitting Hergenrader won the national American Legion batting championship as a member of the state, regional and section champion Lincoln Optimists last year. His tournament batting average was .389.

This spring, Yogi batted .468 for Lincoln High and played on a state championship team for the third year in a row.

His coaches in high school were Bill Jensen and Buford Grosscup. He played under three coaches in Legion ball—Frank Adams, Dick Cecil and Stan Ebner.

Yogi is the third ex-Link star to sign a professional contract in recent months. His infield partner, Gary Smith, signed with the Chicago Cubs and has departed for Paris, Ill., in the Midwest League.

Another former teammate, pitcher Bill Bergstrasser, signed with the Milwaukee Braves and is with Leesburg, Fla. in the Florida State League.

Hergenrader will report to Lexington later this month.

Gophers Whip Arizona For NCAA Crown

OMAHA (AP)—Minnesota's big ten Conference baseball champs crushed Arizona Thursday night, 12 to 1, to win the NCAA College World Series championship.

It was the third meeting between two clubs, who entered the series as favorites, and gave Minnesota a 2-1 edge in the three games.

The Big Ten kings off to a fast start with three runs in the last of the first inning on two singles, two stolen bases, two Arizona errors and a double by Doug Gillen that sent home a pair of runners.

In the fifth Minnesota wrapped things up with a six run outburst. The Gophers slammed out a double, three singles, a two-run triple by Jerry Thomas, who hurled his second win over Arizona, and a two-run homer by Bill Horning.

The homer was Horning's third straight hit of the game.

The Gophers' victory gave the Big Ten its second championship in the 10 years the NCAA has staged the series. Michigan captured the title in 1953.

For Arizona it was the third straight year of frustration, the Wildcats having come in the 1954 and 1955 series as one of the top favorites.

Minnesota took the first game of the three with the Wildcats on Sunday by a 3-1 score with Jerry Thomas pitching against Carl Thomas, who bails from Minneapolis.

Carl Thomas came back Wednesday night to pitch a 10-4 Arizona win and send the series into the sixth round.

Thomas Named Most Valuable

OMAHA (AP)—Pitcher Jerry Thomas of Minnesota, a slender right hander who gave up but two runs in 18 innings, Thursday night was selected as the Most Valuable Player in the 1956 NCAA College World Series.

Thomas pitched two wins over Arizona, the team that entered the series as a co-favorite with Minnesota. He beat Arizona by a 3-1 score last Sunday, then returned Thursday night to beat the Westerners 12-1 in the championship game.

SANDHILLS CRANE MAY BE ON HUNTER'S LIST NEXT FALL

Sandhills crane may be declared game fowl for open season following conferences among game officials of the United States and Canada in a recent meeting at Vancouver, B. C.

Lloyd Vance, game supervisor with the State Game Commission, said complaints from Texas and New Mexico of crop damage were made against the cranes.

Vance recently returned from the Vancouver conference where, he said, Central Flyway officials agreed on several changes in hunting regulations. The agreements, however, are pending meetings of officials representing all four flyways in the United States.

Vance said the Central Flyway group, in which Nebraska is included, agreed there also should

Britain, Sweden Win Olympic Medals

By STERLING SLAPPEY
 STOCKHOLM (AP)—Britain and Sweden, whose athletes are finally winning again after heart-breaking non-victorious years, won the first two gold medals of the Equestrian Olympics Thursday.

The sovereigns of the two nations themselves—Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain and King Gustaf Adolf of Sweden—were in the royal box and fittingly saw their men in victory in the Three-Day trials.

Britain's trio of Lt. Col. Frank Weldon of the Royal Artillery, A. E. Hill, riding the Queen's horse Countryman III, and Maj. Lawrence Rock, won the team title. Petrus Kastelman, of Sweden, won the individual medal in the novel event which calls for a day of dressage, a day of endurance over a vicious 21-mile track and a day of jumping which would test a Grand Prix horse and rider.

The American failure hardly could have been more complete. Not a single American even finished the event. Only eight years ago the Americans won the team title. They also won it in 1932.

Spahn's Pitching Outshines May's Slugging; Braves Win

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Warren Spahn spaced seven hits and scored the winning run Thursday night as the Milwaukee Braves beat the New York Giants, 5-2.

The veteran lefthander, who had lost five in a row, struck out 10 as he claimed his fourth victory against six defeats. It was the fifth victory for the fifth-place Braves as they closed a 15-game home stand.

Spahn held off the Giants except Willie Mays in pretty close check. Mays had a perfect night as he cracked his eighth home run of the season in the second inning and banged singles in the sixth and eighth. He drew a walk in the third.

Mays' homer was the first score of the game and the Giants went ahead by two runs in the third as they scored on singles by Ruben Gomez and Bill White, and Eddie Mathews' error on a grounder by Ed Bressoud, New York's new shortstop called up from Minneapolis Thursday. Gomez crossed the plate on the error.

Mantle Finds Range, Raps 22nd Homer As Yanks Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle found the range Thursday with a 420-foot homer into right-center field, his 22nd of the year, and a one-run double as the New York Yankees beat the Chicago White Sox 5-1 and lengthened their lead over the second-place Sox to five full games.

This was Mantle's first homer since June 5 in Kansas City and it came with the bases empty in the seventh. His double in the third, scoring Joe Collins, was part of a Yankee outbreak that started with two out and resulted in three runs.

Yanks Send Robinson To Athletics

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees Thursday night traded two players to Kansas City, placed on their roster two others and also arranged for the transfer of two men from the Athletics to Richmond, Va., their farm club in the International League.

In the complicated series of deals, first baseman Ed Robinson and outfielder Lou Skizas went to Kansas City; outfielder Norm Siebern was purchased from Denver, Yankee farm club in the American Assn. and shortstop Billy Hunter was activated from the disabled list; and pitcher Ed Burtch and outfielder Bill Renna were sold to Richmond by the Athletics. Skizas had been playing the outfield for Richmond.

Siebern, 23, was the star rookie in the Yankee training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., this spring. He was injured after playing 12 games, badly bruising both knees. After a long convalescence, he got into the Denver lineup and hit seven homers in his first seven games. He is a service returnee and does not count in the 25-player limit.

Robinson hit .222 as part-time first baseman and pinch hitter, with five homers. He is 35. No price was announced.

Hunter, 27, has been on the disabled list since spring, due to a mending ankle which was broken in Denver last August.

Gophers Whip Arizona For NCAA Crown

OMAHA (AP)—Minnesota's big ten Conference baseball champs crushed Arizona Thursday night, 12 to 1, to win the NCAA College World Series championship.

It was the third meeting between two clubs, who entered the series as favorites, and gave Minnesota a 2-1 edge in the three games.

The Big Ten kings off to a fast start with three runs in the last of the first inning on two singles, two stolen bases, two Arizona errors and a double by Doug Gilen that sent home a pair of runners.

The homer was Horning's third straight hit of the game.

The Gophers' victory gave the Big Ten its second championship in the 10 years the NCAA has staged the series. Michigan captured the title in 1953.

For Arizona it was the third straight year of frustration, the Wildcats having come in the 1954 and 1955 series as one of the top favorites.

Minnesota took the first game of the three with the Wildcats on Sunday by a 3-1 score with Jerry Thomas pitching against Carl Thomas, who hails from Minneapolis. Carl Thomas came back Wednesday night to pitch a 10-4 Arizona win and send the series into the sixth round.

Britain, Sweden Win Olympic Medals

By STERLING SLAPPEY STOCKHOLM (AP)—Britain and Sweden, whose athletes are finally winning again after heart-breaking non-victorious years, won the first two gold medals of the Equestrian Olympics Thursday.

The sovereigns of the two nations themselves—Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain and King Gustaf Adolf of Sweden—were in the royal box and fittingly saw their men in victory in the Three-Day trials.

Britain's trio of Lt. Col. Frank Weldon of the Royal Artillery, A. E. Hill, riding the Queen's horse Countryman III, and Maj. Lawrence Rook, won the team title.

Petrus Kastenman, of Sweden, won the individual medal in the novel event which calls for a day of dressage, a day of endurance over a vicious 21-mile track and a day of jumping which would test a Grand Prix horse and rider.

The American failure hardly could have been more complete. Not a single American even finished the event. Only eight years ago the Americans won the team title. They also won it in 1932.

The last American to ride was Walter G. Staley Jr., of Mexico, Mo. He rode very well Wednesday during the testing endurance trials. But Thursday his horse, Mud Bauber, got away from him at the garden fence, broke through a picket fence and ran off the course.

Americans Fade

The other two Americans and their horses—Frank Duffy of Birmingham, Mich., and Maj. Jonathan Burton of Berwyn, Ill., found the endurance run too much for them.

Duffy was disqualified Wednesday and Burton received a concussion in a fall and could not ride Friday.

Britain's points in the team competition were 355.48. Germany's were 475.91. Canada was third with 572.7. Australia was fourth with 620.98 and Italy was fifth with 691.14.

The two-day Grand Prix dressage event will be Friday and Saturday.

The Grand Prix jumping will be Sunday and will close the Equestrian Olympics which were split off from the regular summer games because Australian livestock laws require six months quarantine for all visiting horses.

Bosox Win Sluggers Battle

Cleveland Loses 10-9 Hit Spree

BOSTON (AP) — Jackie Jensen and Dick Gernert accounted for seven Boston runs Thursday as the Boston Red Sox defeated Cleveland 10-9 in a joint feast on wobbly pitching staffs.

The two clubs hammered six hurlers for a total of 30 hits.

Jensen put the Sox ahead to stay with a three-run homer, his seventh of the year, in the third inning. That made the score 6-3 at the time.

His single in the fifth drove in another tally. He also singled and scored in the second.

Gernert — playing left field in place of Ted Williams who fanned in a pinch-hitting role — drove in three runs and scored three times. Dick got three singles and a walk.

Gernert's single brought home Jim Piersall, with what proved to be the deciding run in the fifth. Piersall had just belted a triple to the right-field corner to bring home the doubling Don Buddin.

KNOW YOUR GOLF

By TOMMY ARMOUR

Good shoulder action is another mark of the well integrated golf swing, and demonstrates how the downswing flows naturally out of the backswing. With a steady head serving as a hub, the shoulders rotate rhythmical-

Shoulder-and-chin "touch system"

ly while the hips are turning. On the backswing the left shoulder comes down and under the chin. On the downswing it's the right shoulder that comes down and makes contact with the chin, and in so doing it moves the left shoulder up and around. This complementary, rotating action is known as the shoulder-and-chin touch system, and is essential to a smooth, rhythmic golf swing. This shoulder action draws the arms, and the club, thru the desired swing arc.

Willie Mays of the Giants drew 79 walks in 1955. Thirteen were intentional.

1st Lincoln Swim Club Inaugural Meet Tonight

The first annual Lincoln Swim Club Inaugural swimming meet will be held tonight at 7 p.m. at Munny Pool.

About 100 youngsters, ranging in age from under 10 years of age to 16, are expected to compete in the meet, according to LSC President Bob Lyall.

Even though swimmers have not turned in entry blanks, they may compete in the meet by reporting to the pool tonight, Lyall said.

Bob Barnett Wins Harvard Letter

Bob Barnett, former Lincoln High three-sport star, has been announced as the winner of a varsity basketball letter at Harvard College, it was announced Thursday. Barnett, a junior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Barnett, 2218 Sheldon.

Children Offered Free Golf Lessons

Plans are being made by the Lincoln City Golf Association to give free golf lessons to children of ages nine through 15 inclusive.

Boys and girls of these ages are urged to sign up, either with their nearest playground supervisor or at the City Recreation office at the corner of Ninth and O Streets.

Malzone To Seals

BOSTON (AP) — The Red Sox Thursday optioned infielder Frank Malzone to the San Francisco Seals, Boston's top farm in the Pacific Coast League.

Competition will be in freestyle, back and breaststroke swimming and one-meter diving. There will be four age groups: 10 and under; 11 and 12; 13 and 14; and 15 and 16.

Contestants are expected from all of the city's swimming pools. "The purpose of this meet is to give the youngsters a starting place towards bettering themselves, and to find out what they can do and what they need to improve on, for later meets," Lyall said.

Four other local meets plus two midwest AAU meets are on the schedule. The Lincoln Swim Club, organized this spring, is sponsored by the following groups: Sunday Journal and Star, American Legion, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Lincoln Country Club, Elks Lodge No. 80, Eastridge Pool, Rotary Club, City Recreation Department (Munny, Uni Place and Irvingdale Pools), Red Cross, YWCA, YMCA, Boy Scouts, Capital Beach and Serotoma Club. Other groups are also expected to become sponsors.

Managed by Jimmy DeAngelo, who formerly handled heavyweight Roland LaStarza, Berrios has stopped Pat Marcune and Bobby Courchesne and beaten Bobby Bell twice on split decisions in his 1956 starts. Hamia, No. 3 among the contenders for Sandy Saddler's title, made an impressive American debut against Carmelo Costa at the Garden, March 30. In his other U. S. start he whipped Ike Chestnut at Washington, May 4. The curly-haired Algerian has a 27-1-1 record, his only defeat being a one-round knockout by Louis Cabo at Algiers, Dec. 10, 1954.

Quarter-Midget Car To Be On Display

A demonstration of the quarter-midget racing car "Sea Wolf" will be held as a special feature tonight on the Lincoln Micro-Midget Racing Club track, 14th and Cornhusker Highway.

The regular program will start at 7:30 p.m. Demonstration of the quarter-midget, powered by a two horsepower engine, will be at intermission.

Fiery Miguel Berrios Faces Hamia In Garden Ring Debut

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Cherif Hamia, baby-faced Algerian featherweight, takes an unbeaten string of 11 fights into Friday night's bout with Miguel Berrios of Puerto Rico at Madison Square Garden.

The 10-round match, scheduled for 8 p.m., CST, will be carried on network radio and television (NBC). Scoring will be by rounds with a referee and two judges officiating. Hamia is a slight favorite at 6-5.

Berrios will be making his debut as a main-event fighter in the Garden after many appearances in semifinals. The fiery little fellow became a Garden main-event boxer this year by winning four straight on the Monday night series from St. Nicholas Arena.

'56 Victory Streak

Managed by Jimmy DeAngelo, who formerly handled heavyweight Roland LaStarza, Berrios has stopped Pat Marcune and Bobby Courchesne and beaten Bobby Bell twice on split decisions in his 1956 starts.

Hamia, No. 3 among the contenders for Sandy Saddler's title, made an impressive American debut against Carmelo Costa at the Garden, March 30. In his other U. S. start he whipped Ike Chestnut at Washington, May 4. The curly-haired Algerian has a 27-1-1 record, his only defeat being a one-round knockout by Louis Cabo at Algiers, Dec. 10, 1954.

Staggered Costa

Against Costa, Hamia was a solid right-hand puncher. He staggered the clever Costa three times. In the Chestnut fight, he had more trouble.

Berrios, a 5-2 bundle of energy, came from behind both times against Bell to win. He dropped Courchesne twice and was giving him a solid thumping when the referee stopped the contest in the fifth round. Courchesne had beaten Berrios on a decision last November.

An interesting semifinal pits Johnny Bussio, Brooklyn lightweight who recently was a main-eventer at St. Nick's, against Johnny Digilio of Bayonne, N. J.

Pirates Delay Bridge Work

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Not only are Bobby Bragan's Pittsburgh Pirates stopping the opposition but they've also halted a resurfacing job on busy Liberty Bridge.

That's right, Allegheny (Pittsburgh) County officials decided Thursday the resurfacing job on the bridge will have to wait until the current National League leaders leave town.

The bridge spans the Monongahela River between downtown Pittsburgh and the South Hills section and connects with heavily travelled Route 51 going south.

The Pirates open a three-week stand Friday night. County officials explained the heavy traffic on the bridge would only hinder workmen during the Pirates' home stand.

When a father fails to take the time to listen to his son's problems, he is inviting serious consequences.

For a growing youngster needs the advice, the counsel and affection of his Dad.

Wise fathers make the time to talk...to teach...to help mold the boy into the man.

Even more important, a good father teaches by example. He lives the way he wishes his son to live in the future...a reliable, respected man—fulfilling his duties as a good neighbor and a responsible citizen...exercising self-restraint and moderation in all things.

The intelligent and temperate life must certainly include moderation in the use of whiskey. That is why The House of Seagram, on the occasion of Father's Day, would like to point out again that fine whiskey is a luxury...to be used moderately...at the proper time...and always with common sense.

Nebraska Job Openings Rise 10 Per Cent

Ten per cent more jobs opened up in Nebraska in May than in April, the State Employment Service reported.

Credit for the increase went to more favorable weather for outdoor activity, coupled with some expansion in manufacturing, including alfalfa milling.

The May total of 7,234 jobs listed compared favorably with May job opening counts over the past ten years, the report said.

New registrations from persons seeking work were up also, however. They totaled 5,916, compared to 5,344 in May, 1955.

Industrial Lay-Offs

Many applications received in local employment offices in May were from students and persons seeking vacation time work, but a considerable number represented persons affected by industrial lay-offs.

On June 1, 11,446 persons had active applications for work on file with division employment offices, compared to 12,013 on May 1.

An average of 3,978 persons per week filed unemployment insurance claims in May, compared to 2,441 in May, 1955.

Payments amounted to $396,061 in May, 1956, compared to $229,812 in May, 1955.

Conditions by areas:

ALLIANCE—Job seekers increased in May. Temporary lay-offs in manufacturing helped hold active registrations at May 1 level.

BEAVERHILL—New registrations are about the same as a year ago.

FREMONT—Excellent for those under 21, there is no large group of unemployed in any one of occupational groups. Labor demand was highest in construction and manufacturing.

GRAND ISLAND—Some improvement in the demand for labor was noted in May, but many of the jobs were of short duration.

HASTINGS—May brought improvement in employment conditions throughout the area. Claims for unemployment benefits decreased 35 per cent. Active registrations were 50 lower than a year ago.

KEARNEY—Job openings were less than in May, 1955, which will make it difficult for youths to find jobs for summer.

LINCOLN—Construction employment increased 450 in May, bringing total employment to 47,100. Number of registered job seekers declined 200 during May. Employer orders increased 210 over April and were 50 higher than a year ago.

MCCOOK—Number of unemployed workers has dropped gradually during April and May.

NEBRASKA CITY—Increased applications for construction work along with numerous applications for summer work by students were factors in raising labor supply in May.

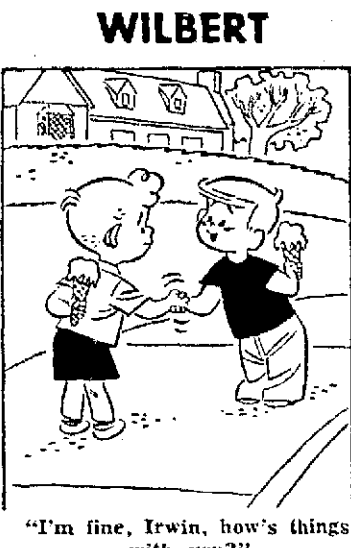

NORFOLK—Active registrations on file June 1 were higher than a year ago, but most of this increase was accounted for by students and recent graduates.

NORTH PLATTE—A substantial increase was noted in number of people seeking services in May.

OMAHA—Active registrations at month's end were 350 less than at end of April. Drop in unemployment insurance claims indicates increase in employment.

SCOTTSBLUFF—Labor supply decreased 12 per cent during May.

SIDNEY—Supply of workers a little higher than in April, because of students and instructors seeking summer employment.

Duncan Hines' Strawberry Festival Cake

- 1 Strawberries are ripe! Get some luscious berries
- 2 Then reach for Duncan Hines White Cake Mix (and 2 fresh eggs)
- 3 and with a whipped topping handy you're all set ...

"If you'll notice, when strawberry shortcake is on the menu of any fine restaurant, it's the dessert most people choose. And because it's such a favorite, I'd like to share a very special one—Strawberry Festival Cake with you. Here it is—and doesn't it look good enough to put a fork into this minute?"

"The welcome and delicious difference is that this is real cake—tender, snowy layers thickly filled and topped with juicy sugared berries and crowned with whipped cream. With our White Cake Mix that cake will always be fine-textured, moist and velvety—because we use special shortening and flour created just for cakes. And all those fine ingredients are creamed and blended more thoroughly than you could do by hand; of course, the fresh eggs you add give you a higher, better cake, too!"

"Make the most of strawberry season! Try this cake with some of our other mixes—Yellow Cake, for instance. Sunshine Sponge Cake, baked in layers, is absolutely delicious. And by all means, try it with our Angel Food Mix—split and filled for party-size desserts, or served in slices smothered in berries-and-cream for family meals."

Simple directions for Strawberry Festival Cake on Duncan Hines White Cake Mix package.

For serving to smaller groups, bake one of these two ways:

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE SQUARES—Bake white cake in oblong pan, following directions on package. Use as much of the loaf as you need. Cut cooled cake into squares. Split crosswise—put together with crushed sweetened strawberries. Top with more strawberries and whipped cream.

STRAWBERRY CUPCAKES—Follow the directions for white cupcakes on the side of package. Use as many cupcakes as you want to serve. Split crosswise—put together with crushed sweetened strawberries. Top with whipped cream. One package gives you 24 delicious cupcakes.

Jane Froman's Storybook Marriage Ends

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (U)—The storybook marriage of singing star Jane Froman ended in court Thursday when she divorced the airline pilot who saved her life in a crash in Portugal 12 years ago. She accused John Curtis Burn, her second husband, of desertion.

Miss Froman

The marriage in 1948 was Burn's first. Miss Froman had been divorced from Donald Ross. Both Miss Froman and Burn were severely injured in 1943 when a Pan American plane crashed in the Tagus River near Lisbon. It was carrying USO entertainers on a wartime tour and 24 of the 39 persons aboard died.

Burn suffered a broken back in the crash but held Miss Froman above the icy water for nearly an hour before they were rescued. At their marriage, Miss Froman walked to the altar on crutches. For five years she had fought her crippling injuries, undergoing 25 operations and spending three out of five years in hospitals.

Sarnoff Protests TV Regulation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert Sarnoff protested to Congress Thursday that any attempt at government regulation of television networks would be a blow to the free enterprise system.

The National Broadcasting Co. president, testifying before the Senate Commerce Committee, said such regulation would be a "first step down the road" to a situation where the government would decide what programs particular advertisers should sponsor.

Advertisers confronted with this kind of regulation would turn away from TV, he said, and the economic foundations of networks would be weakened.

"Such a step," he said, "would raise the most serious problems, not only for television, but for the American enterprise system."

But the author of a bill to regulate networks, Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), challenged Sarnoff on that point.

A frequent champion of free enterprise himself, Bricker told Sarnoff from the committee bench that the competitive system would remain the same with controls over networks.

The government, Bricker noted, already regulates individual stations. He added:

"The networks have the power of life or death over the station. You know that as well as I do."

"I don't think," Sarnoff replied, "that the government would have better judgment than the networks."

He agreed with Bricker, however, that the government should continue to regulate individual TV stations.

Bricker also has contended in a special report to the committee that NBC and the Columbia Broadcasting System have made huge profits on TV.

Sarnoff took that contention up Thursday, asserting that NBC actually lost more than four million dollars in its first eight years of TV operation.

Not until last year, he said, did NBC show a cumulative net profit.

That cumulative figure, he said, was a "modest" $2,315,000. Net profit for 1955, he said, was $6,317,000.

Now, he went on, NBC is "taking on the heavy cost and burden of a major new development—color television."

He said NBC plans to invest 80 million dollars in this project in the next five years.
